MEDLOCK FALLS FOUR STORIES TO HIS DEATH

Prominent Real Estate Man Killed in Empire Building Elevator Shaft.

HIS FALL DOWN THE SHAFT SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

He Had Just Left the Elevator, the Boy Closing the Door—Mr. Medlock Had Lived in Norcross, Ga., Until Two Years Ago.

In some unaccountable manner, R. O. Medlock, a real estate agent, with offices on the fourth floor of the Empire building, fell through the elevator shaft the entire four floors to the bottom of the shaft, landing on his head and shoulders. When the engineer of the building found him, immediately after the fall, he was in an unconscious condition and his body badly mangled. He was at once removed to the Wesley hospital, where he died within a few minutes.

Mr. Medlock was formerly a resident of Norcross, Ga., where his wife and three children now live. He was a prominent citizen of that town for a long number of years and only moved to Atlanta about two years ago and engaged in the real estate business. He was about 45 years of age and was a cousin of Dave Yarbrough and Alderman James L. Key.

The accident occurred at 5:30 o'clock. Mr. Medlock was going up to his office in the Empire building on the fourth floor. He had just left the elevator as it proceeded to the top floor. How he got back through the door is a mystery. The elevator boy states that he thinks he noticed Mr. Medlock catch the door before it closed fast and in this way got back into the shaft. His relatives state that he was in good health, always in good spirits, and that he was thoroughly established in a financial way.

W. B. Stovall, manager of the Empire building, and R. C. Boone both state the fatality is unaccountable to them, and that the matter will be thoroughly investigated at once. L. P. Johnson, the operator of the elevator, through the shaft of which Mr. Medlock fell, has been employed in the building for over two years and the manager states that he is thoroughly competent.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Barclay & Brandon. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Medlock had been married twice and by his first wife he is survived by a married daughter, Mrs. Dr. Hall, of Norcross. His second wife before marriage was Miss Emmie Knox, of Norcross, and by this union he is survived by three children, two daughters, Minnie, 14 years of age; Rowena, 11 years of age, and one son, R. O. Medlock, Jr., 5 years of age.

Examination of the Body.

Dr. James N. Ellis and Dr. Hall made an examination of the body at the request of the family and found that the skull was fractured, the jaw was broken, several teeth knocked out, his right leg was crushed at the knee, and that his hands were lacerated.

It is believed that his hands were torn in an effort to hold on to one of the elevator ropes, which he grasped as he fell down the shaft.

There was one eye-witness to the accident, a gentleman who was on the fourth floor when Mr. Medlock fell through the shaft. He declares that Mr. Medlock got off the elevator as it was slowing up, but not quite stopped, and that his head struck the top of the elevator and he was thrown into the opening.

Dr. Hall, a son-in-law of Mr. Medlock, when informed of the accident, left Norcross in an auto and reached Atlanta in time to aid in the examination of the body.

DEMOCRATS OF IOWA.

They Rejoice in Prospect of the Nomination of Bryan.

Sioux City, Iowa, June 25.—Enlivened in its last hours by a spirited contest over the liquor plank in its platform, the fight on which had been previously waged for four hours in the committee on resolutions, the democratic state convention was brought to a close late today with enthusiastic cheers for William J. Bryan, and for the Iowa state ticket. The liquor plank, which was adopted by a good majority, simply affirms the traditional policy of the party with reference to local self-government.

A plank was offered favoring local option, and deploring the attempt to again inject into the policies of the state the question of resubmission of the prohibitory amendment. In the interest of harmony this plank was finally withdrawn, and in its place was inserted the following:

"We reaffirm the traditional policy of the democratic party with reference to local self-government and home rule."

The resolutions, as adopted, express gratification over the prospect for the nomination of William J. Bryan for president; commend Claude F. Porter and Fred E. White, candidates respectively for United States senator and governor; demand election of senators by popular vote; denounce "government by injunction and its putative father," and reaffirms "the traditional policy of the democratic party, with reference to self-government and home rule."

FUNERAL RITES FOR CLEVELAND

Ex-resident Will Be Buried This Afternoon at Princeton.

FUNERAL WILL BE SIMPLE

President Roosevelt and Other Distinguished Men Will Attend. State Troops Will Act as Police in Order to Prevent Confusion.

Princeton, N. J., June 25.—The funeral of Grover Cleveland will be marked by extreme simplicity. Although twice elected president of the United States, no pomp or splendor will have a place in the ceremonies. There will be no bands to play mournful dirges on the way to the Princeton cemetery, no military escort, no eulogy by the officiating clergymen.

The half-mile of thoroughfare through which the cortege will pass from "Westland," the Cleveland home on Bayard Lane, to the cemetery, will be policed by mounted troops and blue-coated soldiers, but they will be there for police duty and as a measure of precaution in protecting the living president, rather than as an element of display in paying tribute to a departed chief executive.

It has been Mrs. Cleveland's wish to avoid anything of a military nature at the funeral and it was only when the necessity of guarding President Roosevelt was borne upon her by those in charge of the funeral arrangements that she consented to the presence of troops.

Final Arrangements for Funeral.

The final arrangements for the ceremony and the names of those selected to officiate were announced this afternoon.

Four clergymen will officiate at the house and at the grave. They will read the burial services from the Presbyterian book of common worship, but will offer no eulogy. This simple but impressive service will be conducted by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton; Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church of New York; Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Princeton, where the Cleveland family attend, and Rev. Maitland V. Bartlett, former pastor of the same church.

There will be no honorary pallbearers. Those who will bear Mr. Cleveland's body to its final resting place in the Cleveland plot will be Mayor George B. McClellan, Paul Morton, Commodore B. C. Benedict, Richard Watson Gilder of New York, Professor Paul Van Dyke, Dean Andrew F. W. West, Professor John G. Hibben, Junius S. Morgan, a nephew of J. P. Morgan; A. J. Russell, Professor Howard McLenahan and Bayard Stockton of Princeton.

The services at the house, which will begin at 5 o'clock, will be brief, after which the cortege will be formed and proceed to the cemetery down Bayard Lane to Nassau street, the principal street in the village, thence up Vanderverter avenue to Wiggin street, which leads to the cemetery, a highway along which cluster many historic memories.

Some of Those Who Will Attend.

Only those invited to the funeral and a few newspaper men will be permitted to enter the cemetery, which will be guarded by mounted troops and members of the national guard of New Jersey. The simple Presbyterian service will be said at the grave, the casket lowered into the ground and one of the country's most distinguished citizens will have become but a memory.

President Roosevelt, Governor Fort of New Jersey, Governor Hughes of New York, Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia, who was a member of President Cleveland's cabinet, and other notable citizens are expected to attend.

President Roosevelt will arrive on a special train from Oyster Bay tomorrow at 4:40 p. m. He will be met at the station by Governor Fort, and they will drive direct to the Cleveland home. After the ceremonies the president will leave Princeton at once in his private car, Signet.

Although admittance to the Cleveland home and to the cemetery is to be limited principally to personal friends of the family, thousands of people are expected in Princeton tomorrow. Princeton's police force consists of only a few men, and the precaution of safeguarding President Roosevelt, of maintaining order and keeping the thoroughfares cleared became a serious problem with the city authorities.

Mayor Robinson decided to call on Trenton for police assistance and to rope off the thoroughfares from the Cleveland house to the cemetery, but the utter inadequacy of a score of policemen to handle a crowd of several thousand people and to keep the cemetery free from intruders became at once apparent. Governor Fort, through Assistant Adjutant General Frederick Gilkyson, tendered to Mrs. Cleveland the state troops for a military funeral. The tender was declined, but later accepted.

Troops to Keep Order.

Professor McLenahan, after consulting with Mrs. Cleveland this afternoon, made the following statement:

"Governor Fort offered a military funeral through Colonel Gilkyson, assistant adjutant general, yesterday, but Mrs. Cleveland declined it because of her great desire to keep the service entirely free from the military element. Because, however, of the presence of President Roosevelt and the possible presence of Vice President Fairbanks, it was deemed necessary to call on the militia for protection. Mayor Robinson has accordingly made a request on the state authorities for the necessary troops and the governor has ordered out the Monmouth mounted troops."

Late this afternoon Colonel Gilkyson came here from Trenton with other officials, and with Mayor Robinson held a long consultation with those in charge of the funeral at the Cleveland home. Followig the conference it was stated that the military would consist of the second troop of cavalry, companies A,

"TAIL" BOOMS FOR CHANLER AND FOR KERN

Norman Mack and Tom Taggart Do the Launching at Denver.

BRYAN ON FIRST BALLOT, SAYS CHAIRMAN TAGGART

And He Thinks Kern Ought to Tail the Ticket—Mack Is Urging Chanler, of New York, for Second Place—No Government Ownership in Platform.

Denver, Col., June 25.—Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, arrived today, bringing with him a boom for Lieutenant Governor Chanler, of New York, for the vice presidential nomination.

"Conceding the nomination for first place to Mr. Bryan," he said, "I think the nomination for the vice presidency should go to New York state. Mr. Chanler has demonstrated his popularity there, and I am very sure his name would add strength to the ticket."

Bryan Not Dictating Running Mate.

"Would he be acceptable to Mr. Bryan?" he was asked.

Mr. Mack replied:

"Of course, Mr. Bryan is not attempting to dictate the choice of a running mate, but I don't mind telling you that in Lincoln yesterday I discussed Mr. Chanler with him, and am sure that the selection would not be displeasing."

Mr. Mack was accompanied by his wife, who will remain here with him until after the convention. He is a member of the committee on arrangements. Immediately after breakfast he took off his coat and went to work with his colleagues to prepare details for the convention. He predicts a large attendance from eastern cities.

No Government Ownership.

Mr. Mack reiterated today the statement he made yesterday in Lincoln, that it was his belief that no government ownership plank or mention of government ownership of railroads would be in the democratic platform.

"This is the impression I gained from a talk with Mr. Bryan while I was in Lincoln," added Mr. Mack. "I do not believe that the convention and Mr. Bryan are going to be at variance on the platform. I have a fairly good idea of what the majority of the convention will be satisfied with, and I think I have a fairly good idea of what Mr. Bryan has in mind in that connection, and it is my belief that there will be no considerable difference of opinion between the leaders of the convention and the Nebraskan."

Thomas Taggart, chairman of the national democratic committee, came to town today, bringing along a vice presidential boom, which he put forth with much enthusiasm.

For Bryan and Kern.

"Bryan will be nominated on the first ballot without doubt, and his running mate will be John W. Kern of Indiana."

This was the greeting Mr. Taggart gave to newspaper men. A little later, when he had visited the convention hall, he exhibited little less enthusiasm.

"The arrangements for the convention are fine," he said.

"I cannot see how they could be improved upon. The auditorium is a wonderful piece of architecture, and everything seems to be in most tip-top shape." Chairman Taggart has called a meeting of the national committee for Saturday, June 27, when the principal business will be to hear and determine the contests for seats as delegates, which have been filed. These are comparative few in number. So far as filed with Secretary Woodson, they include contests from the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh districts of New York, the ninth Ohio and the delegation from the District of Columbia. It has been reported that a number of seats from Illinois were to be contested, but as yet no official notice of such intention has been received.

To Hear Contests July 6

A conference between Chairman Taggart and other members of the national committee was held tonight when it was decided that consideration of contests would begin Monday, July 6, the day before the convention opens. Chairman Taggart explained that but little time would be required to decide contests as they were limited in number and would be disposed of quickly.

Chairman Taggart was asked as to his ambitions with regard to succeeding himself as chairman of the national committee. He replied with considerable emphasis:

"I know I will not be chairman."

For Strict Railway Regulation.

Lincoln, Neb., June 25.—The Denver platform probably will declare for strict railway regulation. Friends of William J. Bryan predict that no government ownership plank will be inserted. Six months ago Mr. Bryan issued a statement declaring that government ownership would be an issue in the campaign.

SANDERS SIGNS LOCKE BILL.

Anti-Racing Bill Goes Into Effect in Thirty Days.

Baton Rouge, La., June 25.—Thirty days from today the Locke anti-racing bill will go into effect in Louisiana. Governor Sanders has attached his signature to the bill, as he practically promised he would do in his inauguration address.

Several tracks are now operating in Louisiana, the effect of the law is awaited with much interest.

DEADLOCK HOLDS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Many Ballots Have Been Taken Without Result.

KITCHIN GAINS SOME VOTES

An Effort to Introduce a Dark Horse Was Squelched—Delegates Urged by Constituents to Stick to Their Candidates All Summer If Necessary.

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—After a session of twenty-eight hours, an almost continuous performance, the democratic state convention is no nearer a conclusion on the gubernatorial contest at midnight than when it convened Wednesday at noon. Congressman W. W. Kitchin, who came into the convention with a lead of thirty-three votes over Locke Craig, of Buncombe county, has increased this lead to forty-six votes, while Colonel Ashley Horne, of Johnston county, has gained some strength and is stubbornly holding his own.

Fourteen ballots had been taken at midnight with no prospect of a break in the deadlock. An effort to introduce a dark horse early in the night was quickly squelched. The delegates are becoming weary, but are receiving encouraging messages from home, urging them to stick to their respective candidates all summer if necessary.

The session tonight thus far has been somewhat less turbulent, though there have been several violent demonstrations for the leading candidates. The balloting has been going along smoother and quicker, but with no material change save for the gain of a few votes by Kitchin.

After having taken fourteen ballots without material change, the democratic state convention adjourned at 2 o'clock this morning to meet again at 10 o'clock today. The adjournment is accounted a victory for the Craig forces

SHERMAN IS MUCH BETTER.

Physicians Say an Operation Won't Be Necessary.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 25.—Representative James S. Sherman, republican vice presidential candidate, made such rapid progress in recovering from his illness today that all thoughts of an operation has subsided. The candidate is near recovery, Dr. E. P. Carter said tonight, and there is now no reason to be anxious over his condition.

Mr. Sherman passed a comfortable day. The greatest progress was during the morning.

During the afternoon he lost no ground. At 9 o'clock his temperature was 99.4, while at the same hour last night the temperature was 101.6. Tonight the pulse was 72, a decrease of 16, and his respiration was 28, 4 higher than last night.

Farmer Killed by Lightning.

Union Springs, Ala., June 25.—News was received here today that J. A. Brown, a farmer of Pine Grove, in the southern part of the county, was killed by lightning yesterday afternoon while in the field plowing. His horse was also killed.

DRINKING IS BARRED ON LOUISIANA TRAINS.

Baton Rouge, La., June 25.—A bill to prevent the drinking of intoxicating liquors on passenger trains in Louisiana was passed by the house last night, 61 to 11. The bill had previously passed the senate.

RALLY IS HELD FOR EDUCATION

Prominent Educators Speak at the Baptist Tabernacle.

GEORGIA'S GREATEST NEEDS

Hugh S. Wallace, President of the 800-08 Club of the University of Georgia, Presided—Senator Knight, of Berrien, One of the Speakers.

An educational rally was held last night at Broughton's Tabernacle under the auspices of the Georgia 800-08 Club. A moderate sized audience was present to hear different addresses by well-known educators and prominent men of the state.

The general topic upon which all of the talks were made was: "What are the greatest needs of education in Georgia today?"

This topic was discussed from every standpoint. The system of education in Georgia from the primary grades to the college was taken up in the finest of detail by those who have devoted their lives to educational work.

The first speaker of the evening was Dr. F. H. Gaines, of Agnes Scott. He was followed by Senator Knight, of Berrien county; Rev. S. Y. Jameson, of Mercer university; Professor Rembert G. Smith, of Emory college; Professor W. G. Perry, of the Georgia School ow Technology; Father Rapier, of the Marist college; Charles J. Bayne, of The Atlanta Journal; F. L. Seely, of The Atlanta Georgian, and others.

The audience was quite enthusiastic and listened intently to all of the talks Hugh S. Wallace acted as presiding officer.

HARRY A. CHISOLM IS DEAD.

He Was a Member of a Number of Secret Order Fraternities.

Harry A. Chisolm, the secretary and treasurer of the John J. Woodside Storage and Transfer Company, died at his residence, 523 Central avenue, last night at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Chisolm was well known in Atlanta and was a member of several secret orders. He belonged to the Capital City Lodge No. 60, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Empire Lodge No. 47, Knights of Pythias, and Kibla Temple, Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan.

He is survived by his wife. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but will be announced later.

MATTRESS BLOOD-STAINED.

This Confirms Murder Theory in Regard to Alice Meadows.

Houston, Tex., June 25.—A blood-stained mattress found in the house occupied by Alice Meadows, alias Alice Connor, whose body was yesterday found packed in a trunk which had been thrown into a bayou, confirms the murder theory.

An insurance policy was found which had been taken in favor of "my wife," Alice Meadows. The prisoner denies that he murdered the woman.

FRANK J. GOULD SUED BY WIFE

She Asks New York Court for Absolute Divorce.

ONLY WEDDED SEVEN YEARS

Trouble Began in 1906—A Reconciliation Was Effected, but It Did Not Last—Mrs. Gould Was Miss Helen Kelly.

New York, June 25.—Papers have been served upon Frank J. Gould in a suit for absolute divorce brought by his wife, who was Miss Helen M. Kelly. When service was made at Mr. Gould's office, he declined to say whether he would defend the suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould were married in 1901. The first rumors of trouble came in 1906, when it was said a separation suit was under way. A reconciliation was effected, but rumors of dissension continued, until the actual parting last April, Mrs. Gould remaining at their Fifth avenue home with their two children, Helen, aged 5, and Dorothy, aged 3 years.

Mrs. Gould has twenty days in which to file her bill of complaint, and her husband has a like period in which to file an answer.

DEMOCRATS WANT MONEY.

Barrel for the Congressional Campaign Entirely Empty.

Washington, June 25.—The democratic congressional committee is confronting a hard proposition in the matter of money to carry on the campaign, and Representative Lloyd, its chairman, will go to New York early tomorrow for the purpose of breaking into some of the barrels of democrats in whose loyalty to the party he has confidence. The fact is, the committee has begun its work two months ahead of scheduled time this year, and while it usually calls for money in September, it is stated that its work is so far advanced that it must now have funds or call a halt in the sending out of its literature. It has made extensive preparations which it is ready to put into effect in keeping with the early campaign project. Mr. Lloyd stated that he does not expect to have his campaign brought to a standstill, and he believes the result of his visit to New York will be to allow him to go ahead with the execution of plans that have been made.

BURGLARIES AT POULAN.

Robbers Broke Into Depot, Bank and Stores.

Albany, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Burglars held high carnival in Poulan last night. They broke into the Atlantic Coast Line depot, the Bank of Poulan and the stores of J. B. Charles, the Bullard Grocery Company and Mr. Watson.

They were unable to get at the cash of the bank, but secured a considerable sum of money from the stores, in one of which, that of the Bullard Grocery Company, the safe had been left unlocked. Many packages of liquor were taken from the express office in the depot and much merchandise was stolen. There was much excitement this morning when the burglaries were discovered.

Lightning Renders Mare Deaf.

Augusta, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—A fine mare belonging to George Reynolds, of Aiken county, was struck by lightning yesterday in a stable on the outskirts of Augusta. The animal recovered consciousness. A half hour afterwards Mr. Reynolds found that his mare had been stricken stone deaf.

FIFTY INFECTED RODENTS TO BE TURNED ON WELL RATS

New Orleans, La., June 25.—The bubonic plague situation in South America caused the city board of health tonight to prepare advertisements for fifty live rats to be used in an experimet looking to the extermination of rats in New Orleans. The rats will be placed in cages and will be inoculated with a virus intended to produce a disease fatal to them. Then a number of rats ot inoculated will be placed with the infected rodents. If the disease appears to spread satisfactorily it is planned to distribute the infected rats throughout the city.

UP TO GEORGIA TO FIND FUNDS FOR COLLEGES

Citizens Built Agricultural Schools on Pledge of State to Support Them.

NOTHING NOW IN HAND TO PAY FOR FALL TERM

Legislators Are Thinking of the Situation in Which the State Finds Itself—All Agree Something Must Be Done.

That it is up to Georgia to do something to provide for the eleven district agricultural schools which the people of the counties in which they are located built on the pledge of the state to support them, and also to provide for the state agricultural college at Athens, is a statement which meets with a denial nowhere.

That the state must at once do something to meet this situation is also the consensus of opinion among those interested in the state's affairs. Members of both the house and senate have been talking the situation over, and many of them are deeply concerned over the crisis which the state now faces.

They all agree that something must be done, and all who have been approached on the subject say that they will do all in their power to have something done which will meet the case.

Everywhere about the capitol, where groups of legislators were gathered, they were discussing the agricultural education problem and the duty of the state to provide for the schools, on which the citizens of eleven Georgia counties have so liberally spent their private funds.

Crisis Discussed Freely.

Legislators, throughout the day, yesterday discussed the story in regard to this crisis.

It was the main topic of conversation, for it was plainly apparent that unless the state takes immediate action over a half million of dollars in property will fall into disuse.

Members of the house and senate, especially those who live near the locations of these district colleges, were unanimous in their statements that all plans and preparations are made to open up these colleges in September, with an average attendance of from 150 to 200 students.

No one was found who thought that they should be allowed to close up, declaring it would be a blot upon the escutcheon of the educational system in Georgia for this to occur.

Many there were who favored a direct appropriation for their maintenance, to be made by the state; others favored supporting them by special appropriations and through the prescribed channels.

President Flynt, of the senate, whose district agricultural school, in the sixth congressional district, is at Barnesville, said: "It is absolutely necessary that immediate and sufficient action be taken by the general assembly for the maintenance and support of these district agricultural colleges. They have been established now, the teachers are hired, the scholars have been solicited, and we are about to launch out upon a great agricultural educational campaign.

complish this result will have to come after investigation, but it is certain that it must come, and come quickly."

Mr. Hines, of Baldwin, said: "The people of the state have given for the purpose of having these educational colleges, in the eleven congressional districts, in the neighborhood of a half million dollars.

"They gave this in money, land and bonds, with the understanding that these schools were to be opened and operated. They are ready now to be opened, and the state must provide a way to see that they are ready for the teachers and students at the proper and appointed time."

Representative Claud Payton, of Worth county, said: "Our school is at Tifton, and the prospects are for a good attendance this fall.

"We have made all plans and preparations for a good opening, and these agricultural colleges must be kept going. It is up to us now to make this way, and the legislature will have to act at once on this subject.

"I am heartily in favor of these schools, and shall hope to help in keeping them going."

Representative J. N. Holder, of Jackson, president of the board of trustees of the Ninth Congressional college, at Clarkesville, Habersham county, is enthusiastic in his remarks: "By all means the state must provide a way to keep these schools going. We did not get our school completed in time to open in the spring, but are ready now to open in the fall. We have complied with all the requirements, in regard to the school, and expect to see it opened and contined."

Favors Appropriation.

Representative Fermor Barrett, of Stephens, said: "I am in favor of a direct appropriation with which to support the college at Athens and the district agricultural colleges.

Representative Trent, of Heard: "It has come to this: The state must either put up the money or let the colleges go through. I am in favor of a permanent and annual appropriation, and not let them depend upon the sale of anything to insure their support by the state."

Representative L. A. Dean, of Floyd, said: "We should investigate this question thoroughly, and act wisely upon it."

Representative Edwards, of Habersham, said: "This is a great work, and we must keep the schools going."

Representative J. A. Reid, of Macon county, said: "We have put up expensive buildings, are ready to open these schools, and they must be continued."

Wright Goes to New York.

Memphis, Tenn., June 25.—General Luke E. Wright, recently appointed secretary of war, left today for New York, where he will meet Secretary Taft and accompany him to Oyster Bay for a conference with President Roosevelt Saturday. Should he reach New York in time General Wright will attend the funeral of former President Cleveland.

UNIVERSALLY ADMIRED.

Originality, Foresight and Intelligent Endeavor in Business Undertakings Is Not a Sectional Attribute, but an American Characteristic.

It has long been a popular, though erroneous, theory that southerners were, on account of the effects of native soil and climatic environments, a slow moving and unprogressive people. In successfully introducing their Forefather Corn Whiskey in the North the R. M. Rose Co. have amply demonstrated the incorrectness of this idea. Their every move has been marked by intelligent foresight, full knowledge of intricate details and excellent business judgment. Their publicity campaigns have proven them equal to the largest and most experienced successful concerns in this country. No one can gainsay that their project of bringing forcibly to the attention of the cynically-inclined and skeptically-disposed New Yorker the splendid virtues of genuine Old Corn Whiskey was other than a hazardous business venture. However, they have achieved success, and since nothing succeeds like success the indications are they will enjoy a large and profitable patronage continually.

It might be well to mention in this connection that the hand which has guided the operations of the R. M. Rose Co. so ingeniously is that of Mr. Randolph Rose, president, who has the distinction of being numbered among the leading business men of the south. It was he who first conceived the idea of contracting for the largest railroad bulletin boards in the world. These sign boards are 500 feet in length and 40 feet in height. The "Forefather" electric signs in New York city proper are among the largest and most artistic in the world. The one situated at Times Square attracts nightly the interested attention of countless thousands. Green and white are the dominating colors, while some of the letters are 13 feet in height. The total dimensions of this truly remarkable sign are 40x50 feet. One of its features is an illuminated thermometer 35 feet in height, which correctly registers the temperature. New Yorkers are commenting on it most favorably.

It is obviously a most praiseworthy achievement that the R. M. Rose Co. have succeeded so admirably in convincing the cynical and skeptical New Yorkers that Forefather Corn Whiskey possesses those necessary attributes which they have sought for in vain for many years. When the actual facts are considered it can readily be understood that they have grown suspicious of new whiskies, or rather those unknown to them, by virtue of many sad experiences. The exposures of the ingredients contained in these concoctions which they have drunk with such apparent relish these many years, has convinced those of intelligence and discriminating taste that "claims, names and alluring labels" are deleterious, rather than beneficial, to the human system when taken internally.

FUNERAL RITES FOR CLEVELAND

Mrs. Cleveland Locates Grave.

Mrs. Cleveland spent the day quietly. She arose early and shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, accompanied by President Findley, of the College of the City of New York, went to the cemetery, where she gave final directions for locating the grace. Mr. Cleveland will be buried near the ivy-crowned grave of his eldest daughter, Ruth.

The ex-president's body was embalmed today and was placed in a casket and taken to the library on the first floor, where the ceremonies will be conducted tomorrow. A silver plate bears the inscription, "Grover Cleveland, March 18, 1837—June 24, 1908."

A death mask taken yesterday at Mrs. Cleveland's request by Edwin Wilson, a sculptor connected with Princeton university, when completed today showed that Mr. Cleveland had become greatly emaciated during his illness.

AMERICAN FLAGS WORLD OVER HALF-MASTED FOR CLEVELAND

Washington, June 25.—To every naval station and government vessel in commission throughout the world, to all military posts and stations, to all United States diplomatic and consular officers in every quarter, went forth instructions today for observance of the president's proclamation announcing former President Cleveland's death. There was an innovation at the state department inaugurated to meet modern conditions. This was telegraphic notification instead of by mail to our representatives in foreign countries to display flags at half-mast for thirty days. This instruction was telegraphed with a view to uniformity in the time of observance. Copies of the president's telegram also have been mailed to all our diplomatic and consular officers.

The orders telegraphed by the war and navy departments direct the half-masting of the colors, the wearing of the badge of mourning until July 25, and the firing of salutes every half hour from sunrise to sunset tomorrow, the day of the funeral, at all posts, stations and on board ship.

Stock Exchange Honors Cleveland.

New York, June 25.—As a mark of respect for the memory of former President Cleveland, the New York stock exchange will close at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

REGULATE COTTON ACREAGE.

Jackson, Miss., June 25.—Governor Noel has been informally notified that the Farmers' Union will present for his consideration a petition asking that a special legislative session be convened during the current year to enact legislation for the regulation of the cotton acreage.

A committee called on the governor and informed him that a petition of this character would follow the meeting of county president of the Farmers' Union to be held in Jackson on July 6. From officials of the Farmers' Union it is learned that similar movements are under way in all cotton growing states.

FALSE BALLOTS IN THE BOXES?

Hearst's Lawyer Charges That Boxes Have Been Stuffed.

New York, June 25.—With the practical close of the actual recounting of the ballots cast in the last mayoralty election today came charges by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for W. R. Hearst, that the ballot boxes had been stuffed.

When Mr. Hearst began his legal contest for the mayor's office, now occupied by George B. McClellan, he had a plurality of 3,834 votes to overcome. The returns from the contents of only forty-six out of a total of 1,948 ballot boxes, remained to be received when court adjourned today. The vote in all the boxes but three in Manhattan still held up by the court's order, have been re-counted, but the result of the re-count of those in forty-three boxes in the borough of Richmond has not been made known to the court. As the re-count stands with the contents of forty-six boxes unreported, Hearst has made a net gain of 863, leaving a plurality of 2,971 for Mayor McClellan.

Mr. Shearn said that the re-count of the ballots established what the complaint set forth, namely, that there was an excess of ballots in the boxes over the record of the number of voters in many election districts.

"The complaint charges fraud," said Mr. Shearn, "not only a miscount of the ballots, but in effect charges a stuffing of the ballot boxes. We don't mean that the boxes were stuffed after the election, but during the election or immediately at its close."

Mr. Shearn added that he was able to prove that from ten to fifty excess ballots had been deposited in many boxes late on election night and that at the final hearing on the re-count a charge will be made that in many instances ballot boxes were stuffed.

He asked the court to give him an opportunity to prove this charge. Later Mr. Shearn said that he believed the complainant would still be able to prove frauds sufficiently large to invalidate Mayor McClellan's title to his office.

Counsel for Mayor McClellan declared that the charge of ballot box stuffing was baseless.

The hearing will be continued Monday.

AUTO OUTING FOR ORPHANS

The inmates of the five Atlanta orphan homes are going to have a great time on Tuesday, July 14, when they will be treated to an auto ride, followed by an afternoon at Ponce de Leon, when the entire park will be theirs.

Robert F. Shedden, who originated the idea of the annual auto outing for the orphans and made such a success of it last year, has plans well under way for the ride this year and expects to make this year's outing even a greater frolic for the little fellows.

Last year eighty-seven machines were in line and four hundred little hearts were made happy. Mr. Shedden expects to have fully 100 machines this time. He has already had promises of a large number. Any auto owner who wishes to join the movement can reach Mr. Shedden by calling phone Main 170.

The plans will be very much on the order of last year. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the machines will assemble at Trinity church, where the loading will be done. The procession will move to the capitol, back to Whitehall, out Peachtree to Brookwood and back to Ponce de Leon avenue and out to the park. After unloading the children at the park, the autos will be dismissed and special trolley cars will be provided to take the children home after the afternoon's fun is over.

It is desired that as many as possible of the car owners who lend their machines will drive them personally in order that they get a share of the joy of the occasion.

Manager Cordoza has offered Mr. Shedden the Casino matinee and all the attractions at the park for the children, in addition to which liberal provision for refreshments will be made.

The homes which will take part in the outing are the Methodist at Decatur, the Baptist at Hapeville, the Hebrew, the Sheltering Arms and the Home for the Friendless.

GIRL JUMPED TO ESCAPE TRAIN

Tallulah, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Miss Rozie Bradley, of Hagan, Ga., who has been visiting friends here, was seriously, perhaps fatally injured yesterday when she jumped off a high trestle to escape being run over by a train.

Miss Bradley and two girl companions started out to visit the falls. They had just entered the trestle when they perceived the train bearing down upon them.

While the other young ladies managed to get back to their starting point before the train reached them, Miss Bradley apparently lost her head, and jumped off the bridge into the ravine beneath.

Her collar bone was smashed, her shoulder blade broken, two ribs broken, and it is feared that she has suffered internal injuries.

Davidson Wins Match.

By winning the third of the series of five races on roller skates at the St. Nicholas rink last night, Harley Davidson won the $50 bet which was up between himself, and John McQuaig, the amateur champion ice skater. The distance for last night was 2 miles. The time was 6 minutes and 15 seconds.

Greek Killed by Lightning.

Birmingham, Ala., June 25.—Joe Albino, a well-known Greek, was instantly killed by lightning at one of the mines near Pratt City last night. His young son, who was standing within three feet of the father, was uninjured.

HE STOLE $51,000 OF BANK MONEY

Former Employee of Pittsburg First National Arrested.

Pittsburg, June 25.—T. W. Tiers, former discount clerk of the First National bank, of this city, was arrested late today, on an information made by National Bank Examiner William L. Folds, charging him with the abstraction of about $51,000 of the bank's funds.

Tiers furnished bail in the sum of $10,000 for a hearing.

All the money was taken from the bank from February 8, 1906, to July 26, 1908. Shortly after that time the bank officials learned of the irregularities, and dismissed Tiers. He made partial restitution, and turned over to the bank certain collateral upon which, it is stated today, the institution hoped to realize. Nothing was said of the matter at the time, and the bank charged off the shortage from the surplus.

Recently, however, the many bank defalcations occurring in this vicinity resulted in orders being received from Washington, it is said, to prosecute all such cases, and the information against Tiers was made.

Since leaving the employ of the bank Tiers has been engaged in the real estate business.

THEATERS

At the Casino.

Goldsmith and Hoppe, the clever musical entertainers who are prominent in the vaudeville offering at the Ponce de Leon Casino this week, are sharing honors with the feature act, the Corrigan sketch that is being so delightfully played by Herman Lioh, William E. Bonney, Forrest Wynant and Alice Leal Pollock. Of course the sketch quartet is known here—there could not have been drafted a more popular representation of the Giffen company—and the hit that has been scored is as good as the best of the season.

SHORTLY BEFORE MIDNIGHT LAST night B. L. West, 65 years old, of Gainesville, reported that he had been robbed of a pocketbook containing approximately $270. Call Officers Holcomb and Lloyd and Patrolmen Cook and Moncrief investigated immediately, but could not locate the money. West thinks that he was relieved of his wad at the corner of Moore and Decatur streets.

LEAGUERS HOLD FIRST SESSION

More than 200 delegates were present at the opening session, "the get-acquainted meeting," of the Epworth League convention of the North Georgia conference, last night in St. Paul's church.

E. C. Gibson, president of St. Paul's League, who was to have delivered the welcome address, was prevented from doing so on account of the death of his mother. A resolution was unanimously adopted asking the president to appoint a committee to draft resolutions of respect and sympathy on the death of Mr. Gibson's mother.

In the absence of Mr. Gibson, Rev. W. T. Hamby, president of the North Georgia conference Epworth League board, delivered the welcome address. Rev. Irby Henderson, of Oxford, Ga., responded, followed with greetings by Rev. J. T. Daves, the presiding elder of the Atlanta district.

After various reports were heard, the convention adjourned for the conversation party. Refreshments were served in the ante-room of the church and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed.

Rev. Ed F. Cook, of Nashville, Tenn., who is one the program to deliver talks upon different phases of the missionary work for every day of the convention, will probably be prevented from doing so on account of his illness. He was taken sick in his rooms in the Kimball yesterday and he is now in the Grady hospital. Dr. W. W. Pinson has been appointed to Dr. Cook's place on today's program.

DOWN WHITEHALL STREET OFFICERS PURSUE NEGRO

Chase Was Caused by the Theft of a Pair of Handsome Trousers.

In consequence of the rather sudden disappearance of a pair of handsome trousers from the store of the M. R. Emmons Company yesterday morning, Will Harris, a negro man 25 years of age, is on the inside looking out at the police station.

It is said that Will cast covetous eyes on the pants and when he started to run the wearing apparel clung to him. A wild chase was started down Whitehall and Alabama to the railroad yards, where, after using box cars as a cover and back-tracking a number of times, Harris was caught by Officers Dobbs an White. When preparations for gaining a near-by patrol box were made Harris is said to have remonstrated with Officer Dobbs as to the distance of the tramp. "What's the matter?" asked the officer. "I've got a bad case of rheumatism and can't run," said Will.

About Making Hay

Theodore Roosevelt, Haymaker!

That's the latest from the field according to the press dispatches.

And the hats of all America are off to the doughty and strenuous Teddy who has, for the nonce, abandoned the big stick for the rake—the hayrake.

He makes hay though the sun shines.

That's what we invite you to do tomorrow.

But you won't need the bucolic paraphernalia of the perspiring toiler, for we speak in a figure.

Or in figures rather.

We've planned a great big splendid Day of Values for today and tomorrow (half-day tomorrow). We have culled from the infinite possibilities of our summer stocks the most fetching and impressive numbers we could find.

We want you to come and see what they are. They are opportunities for the thrifty. They are the new-mown for those who would make hay while the sun shines.

You'll notice that we have somewhat departed from the everyday custom of telling you "how much it was formerly" and "how much this sale."

Not every time to be sure—but mostly.

How are you going to know the standard of values? How can you compare and judge whether these things are cheap or not?

This is how:

We give you our word for it—and we have had long and ample experience of your confidence in our word.

Every item advertised is a good special—and one which we confidently present for your critical judgment.

You want to save. You really are a haymaker at heart. Here, then, is your field. Other items elsewhere in this issue.

WILL STOP WORK FOR FOUR WEEKS

Gergia Industrial Association Agees to Curtail Mill Output.

DAVIS HEADS ASSOCIATION

G. Gunby Jordan, of Columbus; Dr. Albert Hale, of Washington, and Samel E. Emery, of New York, Made Addresses During Convention.

The Georgia Industrial Association, an organization embracing some of the largest manufacturers and most prominent industrial men of the state, convened in its ninth annual session yesterday morning at the Kimball house, with about one hundred members in attendance.

Dr. Jefferson Davis, of Toccoa, president, called the organization to order, while Charles D. Tuller, of Atlanta, long-time secretary, was at the desk.

President Davis made his annual report, which dealt largely with the work of the past year, but the greater part of which was given to suggestions for the future.

G. Gunby Jordan, of Columbus, made a most interesting talk on industrial education, and was given the closest attention.

Dr. Albert Hale, of Washington, D. C., who is connected with the national bureau of American republics, was most interesting in what he had to say on the "extension of our trade" with special reference to the countries of South America.

Samuel E. Emery, of New York, who has visited Atlanta before and made many friends here, delivered a brilliant and inspirational speech on "Relation Between Capital and Labor." He treated the subject from every standpoint. He especially stressed the necessity of absolute justice, and the evils of special legislation for capital or for labor. At the close of his talk he was given an enthusiastic reception by the members of the association, a line being formed to shake his hand and congratulate him upon his effort. David Donzel, president of the Pelton Waterwheel Company, of San Francisco, came to Atlanta with Mr. Emery.

Alex C. King, of Atlanta, interested his hearers on the "Consequences of an Anti-Injunction Law."

Resolutions Are Adopted.

In executive session, during which the output of the cotton mills of this section was discussed, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It is the sense of this association, representing 2,000,000 spindles, that it is impossible to purchase cotton at prevailing prices and manufacture the same into any product which can be sold for a price that will not involve loss, and

Whereas, The information furnished this meeting by its members from all parts of Georgia and as to the cotton belt satisfies us that only providential interference can prevent a bumper cotton crop. It is therefore

Resolved, That all mills in this association be and they are urged to curtail production to the extent of stopping an aggregate of four weeks by September 1, in order to prevent injury and disaster at a later date.

JEFF DAVIS, President.

Dr. Davis, of Toccoa, was again elected president, while Charles D. Tuller, of Atlanta, was retained as secretary.

Americus, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania capitalists representing millions seeking southern investments, and who already are interested extensively in the construction of the American Railway and Light Company were in Americus tonight, coming to inspect their investments here.

The party of five Philadelphians are greatly pleased with the progress made already, and will push the enterprise to early completion. The extensive power plant building is practically completed, and awaits the early installation of machinery and electrical equipment. The construction of the electric street railway will follow immediately thereafter.

Dix Diamonds

Cash or Partial Payments
Selection Packages Sent

Our plan for selling you a diamond is very simple, no misleading clauses are put into our contracts.

We do away with all mysteries, believing the customer should have all the information there is about a stone, as he should about the purchase of any other property.

Our rule of business is to make only satisfactory sales, for this reason we ask the privilege of sending you a sample package for selection.

We do not require endorsements, but ask for reference from those with whom we have had no previous business dealings.

Write us concisely what you want, the size stone and what you want to pay for it. We show our appreciation of the trust by giving our personal care to the selection.

Our mail order department comprises every facility for prompt attention to out-of-town customers.

We prepay express charges whether you buy or not. This is not to place you under any obligation. We consider it a favor to submit our diamonds. It gives us an opportunity to extend our business, and in nearly every instance results in sales.

Deferred payments should appeal to those who have their money in fixed investments. They permit your wearing a diamond upon payment of only one-fifth its real value, and the balance scattered over ten months.

Write for Our Diamond Book No. 7—it will go more definitely into our plan.

Light Northerly Winds Will Make It Pleasant for Atlanta.

The weather: Partly cloudy, with light northerly winds. It will continue fair in the upper Ohio valley, the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states and the Carolinas.

Hammondsport, N. Y., June 25.—The aeroplane Junebug made a successful flight today, going 2,175 feet in forty-five seconds. This is twice the distance heretofore made by the machine. It was kept about 45 feet above the ground. A heavy wind blew during the trial, the airship going with the wind.

FINE PROGRAMS ARE RENDERED

State Convention of Baptist Young People's Union Meets at Gainesville.

Gainesville, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Hundreds of delegates from all over the state are in Gainesville, representing various Baptist Young People's Union organizations, coming from almost every town, of much size, in the state. This is the annual state convention, and is the fourteenth held since the organization was perfected. The first session of the convention was held at the First Baptist church Tuesday night, when Dr. John F. Purser, of Atlanta, preached the convention sermon. The church was filled with delegates and the people of the city. Homes have been assigned the visitors, and everything will be done to make their visit a pleasant and profitable one.

Rev. O. J. Copeland, the pastor of the church, and the members of the congregation, and the people of the city generally, are active in their efforts to make each visitor feel perfectly at home.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock devotional services were held at the church. At 11 a. m., probably one of the most highly educative and interesting lectures of the convention was delivered by W. D. Upshaw.

Hon. Clifford Walker, of Monroe, talked to the convention on "The Sacred Literature Course." He is a splendid and enthusiastic worker, and he was listened to with much interest.

Dr. R. J. Willingham, who is always heard with much pleasure by Baptists everywhere, at the Breneau auditorium, yesterday evening, discussed "The Conquest Missionary Course." This was an able discussion, and quite an immense audience filled the auditorium. Dr. Willingham is one of the foremost religious workers in the south, and he is loved by every Baptist in the land.

The following was the program for Thursday morning: 9:30, devotional; 10, "Home Missions," Dr. B. D. Gray, Atlanta; 10:45, "Foreign Missions;" 11:30, "Shall We Give Our Lives?" Dr. J. D. Chapman, Valdosta.

Thursday afternoon, 2:30, devotional; 3:00, "What Shall Be the Measure of Our Financial Aid?" W. W. Brooks, Rome; 3:45, "Achievements and Outlook of Georgia Baptist Young People's Union." Dr. Robert Van Deventer.

Thursday night, 8:30, "Conditions in Mission Fields," illustrated with stereoptican, Dr. R. J. Willingham, Richmond.

Tie Placed on the Track.

Tulsa, Okla., June 25.—An attempt was made to wreck a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train by placing a heavy tie on the track at Highlands, east of this city, late last night. The obstruction was discovered and removed just in time to prevent a terrible disaster. Washington Ellis, a 16-year-old negro, who was seen lurking near the scene of the attempted wreck, was taken into custody. He places the blame on an older brother, who has not yet been arrested.

Cottolene

Shortens your food
Lengthens your life

Cottolene is a cleanly, wholesome product. It is made from cotton-seed oil, in a thoroughly modern and hygienic manner, and is just as pure as olive oil. It, moreover, makes palatable, digestible, healthful food which will agree with the most delicate stomach. Lard food on the contrary, is indigestible, and will cause trouble if its use is persisted in.

Cottolene is endorsed by the most prominent cooks and household economists of the country, as well as by those of the medical profession who make a special study of pure food. There is no substitute for Cottolene, because there is no shortening so good as Cottolene. It stands alone, as everyone who has used it according to directions will verify.

JUST OUT--ASK FOR IT

Uncle Remus's--The Home Magazine

For July

Has just been issued from the press and is for sale by all newsdealers.

It's Full of Good Reading and Pictures

The Latest Number Contains a Wealth of Timely Topics

Your Belief and That of Other Folks

Joel Chandler Harris, editor of the Magazine, has contributed an article entitled "In the Matter of Belief," which is sure to make you take considerable notice. It makes no difference whether you have any decided belief or not—you'll find much to interest you in this editorial-essay.

Unique Horse Race Story

Curran R. Greenley has written a story for the July number which is far and away ahead of anything along similar lines that has appeared in any other magazine. "The Running of the Sioux" is all about a horse race in the Blue Grass Country of Kentucky. The remarkable feature of the story is the fact that the heroine's horse fails to win the race. Did you ever hear of such a thing? But the hero wins in the race of love and the story is brought to a close in a way to satisfy the most exacting reader.

Strong Serial Story

Will N. Harben has written a number of successful novels, but none better than "Gilbert Neal," which is now appearing in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine. The chapters printed in the July number bring the narrative to an intensely interesting climax. A synopsis of previous installments is given so that anyone beginning the serial with the July issue will have a proper understanding of the characters and their importance to the thread of the story.

Great Composer and Orchestra Leader

If you are a lover of music—and most people are—you'll certainly be interested in the article on Victor Herbert by Paul Tietjens. Mr. Herbert is one of the most popular and prolific composers of the present day, and has furnished the music for some of the principal operatic and musical comedy successes of the season. Mr. Tietjens throws some new sidelights upon this maker of delightful music.

One Little Girl's Conscience

Reina Melcher has contributed one of the daintiest stories of child life that could be imagined. It's about a little girl who was vain, and to whom Conscience came and made unhappy. The little girl's grandmother, however, is wise in the logic of life, and she unburdens the child's mind in a clever fashion. You'll be immensely pleased with this story, and the picture by Alice Beach Winter that illustrates it is as charming as the story.

An Isolated Race in Georgia

On the border of modern civilization, but apart from it, is the unhappy fate of a people who inhabit the mountains of North Georgia and about whom Isma Dooly has written an article of absorbing interest. She gives facts gathered at first hand; and she writes about this people in a graphic but sympathetic way. The needs of these mountaineers, what has been done for them and what is being planned for their future, are subjects discussed in entertaining fashion by the author.

Other Excellent Features

In the July number Colonel John C. Reed tells more about the Ku Klux Klan, of which he was a member, and relates incidents leading up to the famous state election of 1870 in Georgia. Charles Battell Loomis, the humorous writer, has a rattling good story in "A Chase for a Guest." It is a modern comedy of errors with the New York Subway as an incident.

"Ol' Joshway an' de Sun" is an Uncle Remus rhyme by Joel Chandler Harris, which is by long odds one of his best bits of dialect verse. Frank L. Stanton and Robert Lovemen both have clever poems in the July issue. Don Marquis contributes some sprightly comment about Thomas E. Watson and the recent gubernatorial campaign in Georgia. In "The Open House," a popular department of the magazine, Mary E. Bryan offers a suggestion concerning the ever-present servant problem that is certain to interest every housewife.

CRACKERS HIT LIKE FIENDS BUT LOSE OUT

NO SLUMP HERE; LOCALS GOT 16

But the Sixteen Only Produced Three Runs.

While Barons, With 14 Safeties, Got 4 Runs and Had the Best of the Swatfest—Turner Received Good Support From His Team.

Birmingham, Ala., June 25.—(Special.) Those fans who enjoy the hit and run game had great satisfaction this afternoon when the first of the Atlanta-Birmingham series became memorable for its thirty swats and ten bases on balls.

All that saved Turner was superb support, Downey, Henline and Douglass on separate occasions saving the day by brilliant work. The Barons piled up twenty-one assists, and on the other hand Fox passed through the afternoon's entertainment with fewer put-outs than he has ever previously scored.

The terrific hitting of both teams featured the game. Atlanta found the Baron artist for a total of sixteen, five of them being for doubles. The hitting of Molesworth and Hurlburt, each getting four in four trials, and of Henline and Becker, each getting three in four efforts, were individual features.

Atlanta failed to tie the score, and probably win the game, when Becker and Fox died at the plate and when Winters, endeavoring to stretch a double into a triple, went dead at third. All three pitchers, as the swatting indicates, were surrounded with horseshoes. There was hitting enough to score several dozen runs.

Cummings Was Wild.

Bill Smith hung his fate to Cummings. The youngster was exceedingly wild, and those men whom he declined to walk retaliated by hitting safely. After the Barons had scored two runs Smith substituted Johns. Johns was no enigma, and when the game was terminated he had fared as badly as Cummings both as concerns hits and runs.

Turner was not effective in a single inning. His sign of distress was continually hanging out, but Molesworth heeded not his pitiable cries for relief. Although the game was crammed to the brim with hits, the great interest of the fans was maintained to the end. Atlanta threatened to tie the score in the ninth, but after Becker had tallied, Douglass saved the victory, and ended the struggle by robbing Johns of a hit over first that looked good for a three-bagger.

Atlanta scored first in the second. Becker led off with a double, but was eventually retired at the plate. Jordan, who had received a walk, was sent across the plate by successive hits of Hurlburt and Castro.

The Barons ran ahead in the third, when five hits, a base on balls and an error by Ginger Winters tallied Molesworth and Demont. The Barons added another in the fifth. Walters was walked and Henline and Downey beat out hits to the infield. Turner's fly-out scored Walters.

Atlanta's second run came in the sixth, when Castro was safe on a fielder's choice, and scored on Moran's hit to left.

The Barons' fourth run was born in the eighth. Molesworth led off with a hit to the infield, and when Demont failed to sacrifice, he stole second. Meek thereupon did the proper thing by singling to right. Molesworth scoring the run that decided the game. In their half of the ninth the Crackers made strenuous efforts to finish strong. Becker led with a double. Fox singled Becker to third. Jordan forced Fox at second, but Becker did not score until Hurlburt got his fourth hit. Dyer filed to Henline and Johns retired the side as explained.

DECORATORS WALK AWAY WITH THE TYPO BUNCH

The Decorators defeated the Typos in the Union League game yesterday by the score of 16 to 5. The features were the superb form in which Pitcher Medcalf, of the Decorators, handled the other people. He struck out eighteen men, and gave but two bases on balls.

The winning team was great at running bases, accumulating in all fifteen stolen bags, this stealing helping in many of the runs.

A new world's two-mile tandem record was also made, Clarke and Maher, the European rider, going the distance in 3:57 3-5, in a match with Samuelson and Willcox.

ATHLETICS WON NEAR CONTEST

Bell Boys Were Off Their Feed but Fought Valiantly.

The great exhibition of baseball between teams representing the Atlanta Athletic Club and the Bell House was pulled off at Ponce de Leon yesterday and students of the pastime who watched the spasm picked up a great many points.

Lest it should be forgotten, it is well to state just here that the Athletics won, the score being 14 to 5, but this was a mere minor detail.

It is no exaggeration to say that such playing has never been seen on any Southern League diamond. President Heisman, of the Atlanta Baseball Association, who is also coach of the Athletics team, was an interested spectator and it is understood that if any gaps occur in Bill Smith's line-up offers will be made to some of the talent unearthed in this contest.

For versatility, for instance, where can the equal be found of Tom Lyon, who opened with the Bell boys at second, was transferred to right garden, and when Jim Callaway's arm wilted was put in the box and proceeded to accumulate a remarkable strike-out record. Charlie Strong, an old Tech gridiron star, who was playing short for the Bells, at one stage of the game forgot he was on the diamond and stopped a runner with one of the prettiest tackles ever seen at this season of the year. However, the playing of this aggregation reached its climax in the eighth inning, when Joe Colquitt, in center field, surprised himself and everybody else by actually catching and holding a long fly from Pat Stovall's bat.

Charlie Murray twirled for the Athletics and presented such a front as to frighten his adversaries during the first inning, but in the second had three runs pounded off his delivery. Bob Jones, who may years ago flirted around the mountain diamonds of North Georgia, did some stunts that were appreciated by the crowd, but there were some members of the Athletic team who were so impolite as to really play ball and this proved quite distasteful.

The real find of the day, however, was Humphrey, who acted as umps. Though he was frequently advised by the angry mob to consult an occulist he stood his ground like a veteran and all the threats of the crowd and the combined teams could not force him to change a decision he had made whether it was right or wrong.

It was a great layout of near-baseball which furnished amusement of a high class to quite a neat crowd and the Daughters of the Revolution, in whose interest the affair was arranged, were winners by a comfortable margin.

CASTRO TRIES TO CRAWL FIGHTING UMPS O'BRIEN

Birmingham, Ala., June 25.—(Special.)—Before the conclusion of the game this afternoon Umpire O'Brien and Lou Castro, who had hot words, narrowly escaped a battle. O'Brien walked across the diamond to the players' bench and shook his finger under Castro's nose. Lou attempted to strike the umpire with a bat, but Molesworth and Smith, catching the instrument, forced Castro from the grounds. O'Brien was the umpire whom Baxter trounced.

ATLANTA CLUB REPORTS NO MORE SIGNATURES

While the Atlanta management denies that the club has signed Infielder Kelley, the ex-college player with the Cincinnati Reds, it has strings on said player, and if he is needed he will join the team. However, no deal has been closed yet.

The club is also on the lookout for other men, and has located several that look good. It is said that they will be called in case the present outfit fails to pan out.

This Kelley is a second baseman by trade, and it may be that he is being fished after to fill in in the event Otto Jordan is sold or drafted, looking to next season rather than this.

Smith Doesn't Answer.

Birmingham, Ala., June 25.—(Special.)—Bill Smith's efforts to recall Sitton have failed. Smith stated this afternoon that Augusta positively refused to return the youngster back. "We farmed him until the close of the season," Smith stated, "and Augusta, being hard up itself, declined to return him sooner." Smith will swing to Cummings for some time longer, until he can get another man. It is learned that he is not at all satisfied with his pitching staff, and will make hurried efforts to strengthen same. When asked concerning the rumor that he would acquire Sabrie, former Pelican first-sacker, Smith made no answer in way of denial or confirmation. This rumor was rampant in Birmingham today, although the conclusion of the season may find James Fox still in Atlanta.

No Report on Near Fight.

Little Rock, Ark., June 25.—(Special.) According to a statement made by President Kavanaugh tonight, Umpire Brown has made no report of the mix-up following Tuesday's game at Memphis, during which, it is alleged, that Delehanty spat in Brown's face.

Goodbye, Delehanty.

Little Rock, Ark., June 25.—(Special.)—Manager Frank, of the New Orleans club, has asked for waivers on Outfielder Frank Delehanty.

YALE OARSMEN LOSE TO HARVARD

Stroke of "Old Eli" Collapsed at Critical Moment.

Yale Hopelessly Beaten a Mile From the Finish—Thousands Witnessed the Race on the Thames. Secretary Taft Among the Spectators.

New London, Conn., June 25.—Amid a deafening din of steam whistles and horns, and the frenzied shouts of collegians, the Harvard 'varsity eight shot their boat over the finish line tonight, winning from the crippled and distressed Yale crew that classic of American college aquatics, the Harvard-Yale boat race.

But instead of a race, Harvard finished the last mile and a half alone, while far behind Yale limped with but seven men at the oars, with Griswold, the stroke—the man who had been relied upon to set the winning pace—bent forward, limp and faint from the terrific strain of the opening two miles.

Up to this unexpected climax it had been a stirring struggle, worthy of the best traditions of the old antagonists, and with the fitting setting of a marine spectacle such as had seldom been equalled along a regatta course for brilliancy and magnitude.

For the first time, too, the president of the United States was taking keen and active interest as a champion of the crimson colors, and, although compelled by circumstances to absent himself today, the spirit of the enthusiasm was voiced by the Roosevelt family, who witnessed the contest from the deck of the presidential yacht.

Yale was more fortunate in having her distinguished champion, Secretary Taft, present in reality, the central figure of a group of collegians aboard one of the observation trains, who shouted enthusiastic encouragement to the Yale crew as they sped over the early reaches of the course, and then lapsed into glum dismay as Griswold was seen to fall over helpless in the Yale boat.

Under Favorable Conditions.

The race was rowed under the most favorable racing conditions, just as the sun was setting over the picturesque Thames, with the water broken only by ripples, a cloudless sky and a light northwesterly breeze.

The great steel draw-bridge spanning the Thames marked the start of the race, with the finish at Red Top, 4 miles upstream. Craft of all sorts lined the course, carrying hundreds of spectators.

Through this maze of craft the racers threaded their way with a clear, open course 200 feet wide, marked every half mile with red and blue standards. Every eye was riveted on the bronze, swaying forms in the shells as they bent to the terrific strain of 26, then 30, then 35 strokes to the minute, driving their frail crafts through the water. Yale had splashed at the start, and the Harvard men had been quick to take the advantage, pushing their boat slightly ahead. There they hung, nip and tuck. Half a mile from the start both crews were almost side by side, Harvard being a few feet to the fore; one mile, Harvard still ahead, with Yale holding on doggedly; two miles, Yale spurting and lessening the gap; two and a half miles, Harvard still in the lead, with open water between the boats, and Yale fighting on like grim death.

Yale Stroke Collapses.

Steadily on they came, when suddenly commotion was observed in the Yale boat, as Griswold, the stroke, fell forward on his oar and ceased to row. Case, Yale's coxswain, had already been dashing water into his pale face. For nearly a minute the Yale stroke sat motionless, bent down as if lifeless. Then he was seen to straighten up and bend to his oar again, and a great shout went up from the Yale cohorts as their crew was seen to pick up the stroke and rally for another effort. But they were now six lengths behind, hopelessly beaten. Another twenty strokes and Griswold was seen to collapse again, and then the whole crew, disheartened at the fall of their leader, quit their work and sat dejected at their oars. Yale was beaten. It was no longer a race, and Harvard swung ahead alone, still keeping up the racing clip, and crossing the finishing line with regular "swish-swash" to the very end.

As Harvard swept across the line "boom—boom—" and "toot—toot—" went up in deafening chorus from the myriads of craft, while from bank to bank rolled a chorus of Harvard yells and from every truck and main mast broke out the triumphant crimson. In the fore water stood out the big presidential yacht with the Roosevelt children on the bridge, applauding lustily.

Taft Saw His College Lose.

Far away could be seen Secretary Taft's car, the big secretary standing bareheaded, gazing back toward the crippled Yale boat, while "Rah—rah—rah—Harvard" came from the group of college men as the secretary sped by.

Griswold had been helped from the Yale boat, and lagging far behind the Harvard men the seven remaining Yale men at last made their appearance at the finish—a half mile behind Harvard—receiving a generous ovation for their pluck under such disheartening conditions.

Official time:
Half Mile—Harvard 2:38, Yale 2:39.
One Mile—Harvard 5:37, Yale 5:39.
One and Half Miles—Harvard 9:12, Yale 9:16
Two Miles—Harvard 11:33; Yale 11:37.

Three miles—Harvard 18:00; Yale —.

Earlier in the day honors were divided, the Yale four defeating the Harvard four by two lengths, and the Harvard freshmen eight defeating the Yale freshmen by three lengths.

Tocoon Was Unsuccessful.

Toccoa, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—The Southern railroad team, of Toccoa, was defeated Tuesday afternoon by the score of 9 to 6. The game was well played throughout. Parker was knocked out in the fourth, and Pulliam succeeded him, giving up only three hits in five and one-half innings.

Edwards, of Lavonia, pitched a nice game, keeping the hits well scattered.

FINALS STOPPED BY RAIN STORM

Finishing Matches in Doubles and Singles Occur Today.

New Orleans, La., June 25.—Esmond Phelps, of New Orleans, today defeated A. M. Post, his club mate, in the finals of the Gulf States tennis tournament, and will tomorrow play Nat Thornton, of Atlanta, in the challenge round for the singles championship.

Post, after losing two sets to Phelps today, 6—1 and 7—6, defaulted to him in order not to wear Phelps out in the intense heat. Phelps was saving his strength for the doubles, when he and Logan, of New Orleans, were scheduled to meet Grant and Thornton, of Atlanta, in the challenge round for the Gulf States championship.

A heavy rain storm, however, interfered with the doubles match, and it was postponed until tomorrow. The singles championship will be decided first, after which the doubles will follow.

SAMUEL PARROTT HEADS BIG COMPRESS COMPANY

The Atlantic Compress Company, with offices in Georgia, Alabama and Florida, of which C. C. Hanson, one of the most widely known and successful cotton factors of the south has been president since its formation in 1901, is now working under a new chief executive.

Samuel F. Parrott, for four or five years past vice president and general manager of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, with headquarters in Macon, has been selected president of the Atlantic Compress Company to succeed Mr. Hanson, who recently resigned to accept the receivership of the Gulf Compress Company, whose headquarters are in Memphis.

The Atlantic Compress Company, under Mr. Hanson's management, has been working since its formation in 1901 at twelve points in Georgia—Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta, Macon, Columbus, Albany, Americus, Dawson, Cordele, Fitzgerald Thomasville and Toccoa—at each of these places having compresses ready for the requisite work. In Alabama six compresses have been going when work was required—at Montgomery, Opelika, Eufaula, Dothan Troy and Anniston, while in Florida there was one compress located at Pensacola. All of working outfits were under the direct observation and direction of President Hanson, who at the same time was president of the Gulf Compress Company, with plants in Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Oklahoma. However, the two organizations were wholly independent each of the other.

SAM F. PARROTT, New Head of the Atlantic Compress Company.

In Hands of Receiver.

Recently the Gulf Compress Company was placed in the hands of a receiver and Mr. Hanson being more thoroughly conversant with the conditions existing, was named for that place. The duties incumbent upon the receiver were sufficient to require practically all the time of that official and for that reason Mr. Hanson thought it wise to sever his connection with the Atlantic Compress Company and his resignation as president followed.

Immediately upon receipt of that resignation the board selected Mr. Parrott, vice president of the Georgia Southern and Florida, as Mr. Hanson's successor. Mr. Parrott was advised of the action of the board and came at once from Macon to Atlanta for a conference, while Mr. anson went direct to Memphis to look after the interests of the Gulf Compress Company. Mr. Parrott accepted the tender and at once sent in his resignation as vice president of the Georgia Southern and Florida but with the understanding that it should not become effective until a selection of a successor should be brought about.

In the meantime Mr. Parrott is passing his time between Atlanta and Macon discharging in one city the duties of vice president of the railway and in the other those of president of the Atlantic Compress Company. As soon as Mr. Parrott can perfect details of his severance with the Georgia Southern and Florida he will move his home back to Atlanta again, where he lived so many years of his life.

NEW PAPER FOR ATLANTA; CARRIER MONTHLY HERE

Business Offices of Carrier and Patron Moved From Cumming, Ga., to Atlanta.

The large number of news and class publications centered in Atlanta has been augmented by the removal of the business office of The Carrier and Patron, from Cumming, Ga., to Atlanta.

This paper has been edited and published at Cumming for about eighteen months by J. B. Patterson, but its rapid growth and extension of circulation made it necessary for the management to secure headquarters which offer better facilities for conducting the business in a modern way.

J. A. Rasbury, president of The Southern Trade Press, of Atlanta, publishers of Ice, a monthly trade journal, and other periodicals, has bought an interest in The Carrier and Patron, and will assume the duties of business manager, with headquarters in the Brown-Randolph building. The editorial department will remain as heretofore, at Cumming, with J. B. Patterson in complete charge.

The Carrier and Patron is a monthly newspaper in the interest of carriers on the rural free delivery routes and farmers throughout the country. It enjoys the distinction of being the only paper representing the interests of both carriers and farmers whom they serve, and whose interests are identical in many ways in the United States, and the only rural free delivery paper of any kind in the south. Mr. Rasbury states that every means will be taken to extend the paper's circulation and influence, which already covers every southern state and many northern and western states.

CARRIED BROWN ON SHOULDERS

Frank B. Sirmans Figured in Act Not on Program.

A big crowd waiting for the elevator in the Kimball house lobby on last Tuesday after the convention adjourned, witnessed a sight not down on the program.

In the midst of the surging, struggling mass of delegates, legislators and politicians of greater and less degree who helped swell the record-breaking attendance at the convention was the next governor of Georgia, Joseph M. Brown.

An enthusiastic supporter spied this quiet figure waiting patiently for the overcrowded car to ascend and return. With a rush for "Little Joe Brown" that scattered the crowd like a big 'varsity center rush plowing through a pref eleven, this stalwart, tanned and vigorous man reached the governor.

"Why, confound it, governor, you don't have to wait for that elevator," he shouted, as he swung "Little Joe" to his shoulder and rushed him up the steps will all the ease of a man carrying a bouquet of roses to his best girl.

It was over too quickly for the object of his solicitude to protest. It wouldn't have done any good anyhow, for Frank B. Sirmans is good in a clinch. That is, he is so well liked in Clinch that they once sent him to Atlanta to occupy a seat in the state senate.

Mr. Sirmans is 6 feet high, weighs 250 pounds and thinks a great deal of "Little Joe" Brown. If the governor had wanted to go to the sixth floor, he would have deposited him there as safely and gently.

A PERFECT HOTEL

The St. Regis, New York, Provides Every Known Comfort and Luxury

A LIBRARY FOR GUESTS

In the olden times when houses for public entertainment were known as inns or tavens very little attention was given by "mine host" to providing anything for his guests beyond such actual necessities as food and shelter and even these were not always of the best.

In this age of great hotels, palatial in size and magnificence, which are not merely stopping places for travelers, but more or less permanent abodes, the manager provides all the comforts of home, and much in the way of luxury and convenience unobtainable in the average private residence.

Particularly is this true of Hotel St. Regis, New York's most complete living and dining establishment. Not content with giving its guests the best in the way of food, furnishings and artistic surroundings, the management also makes special provision for those who have literary tastes.

On the second floor of the St. Regis, where are located the grand ballroom and a series of reception and sitting rooms, is a large, attractive library with well-stocked book shelves. Here are many thousand volumes selected with great care and covering the world's best literature. A complete and handsomely bound catalogue is provided in every room and a librarian is always in attendance. Guests have free access to this library and are permitted to draw books for perusal in their rooms.

Hotel St. Regis omits no feature which can in any way add to one's enjoyment. And yet with all that this implies, the cost of living is moderate. A large, well-furnished room may be had for $4 a day, or the same with bath connected for $5 ($6 for two people), or a parlor with bedroom and bath for $12. The restaurant charges are not higher than in first-class hotels generally.

LITTLE CHILD WAS KILLED.

In Some Way Baby Was Shot by Its Brother.

Tifton, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—A most horrible accident occurred six miles west of Lenox, Ga. A. W. Griner was away from home and his wife was alone with her two little boys, one about six years old and the other one about two. She was in the kitchen when she thought she heard a noise outside, and sent the larger boy to see what it was. The little one started to follow and she called to the larger one to send the small one back. She was busy with her work and was horrified about a minute later by the report of a shotgun.

Rushing into the house, she found the larger boy with a smoking gun in his hand, while the little one had a gaping hole in his forehead, just above the left eye. The little fellow lived only about thirty minutes.

The gun had been kept on a rack in the house, but some one had evidently taken it down and left it standing where the little boy could reach it. The child was too frightened to tell how the accident occurred.

Just how the weapon came into the little boy's hands and in what manner it was discharged will probably never be known.

CAWLEY WAS PARDONED.

He Had Served Nine Years of Ten-Year Sentence.

Montgomery, Ala., June 25.—(Special.) Responding to the cry of children for their father, Governor Comer has given liberty to J. P. Cawley, who had served all but one year of a ten-year term for manslaughter in Lee county. In letters to the executive, two little daughters of the convict begged that the governor give them back their father that they might, like other children, have a father. The plea, coupled with what seemed to be due the man, was effective, and today the fact of the pardon was phoned to the prison in order that the relieved man might hurry to his loved ones at home.

As already noted, Cawley killed a man who he thought had wronged his niece, and in response to that feeling that a man has to protect his own household. His family of wife and seven children have been with relatives in Crenshaw county since the beginning of the sentence and the children have grown to be quite large and attractive since the day they were left.

SUPPORT FOR THE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

Of all the problems that face the present session of the legislature and clamorously appeal for solution, one of the greatest and most vital affects the future of agricultural education in Georgia.

The eleven district agricultural schools and the State College of Agriculture have reached a calamitous crisis thus early in their career of usefulness.

The state finds itself with no money in the treasury to provide for their maintenance.

The agricultural department of the University of Georgia has been provided with a handsome new building, costing $100,000, in which the science of agriculture is to be taught. It is a magnificent building, ideally located for the purpose and will be ready to open by September next.

In each of the eleven congressional districts model school buildings with spacious grounds have been erected to give valuable instruction of immediate use to thousands of Georgians.

That these schools are needed is attested by the keen rivalry which marked the contests in which they were the prize. The successful counties made donations averaging from $45,000 to $100,000 to secure the schools for their communities.

When these offers were made by individual counties to provide for the erection of the buildings and to secure needed grounds, it was, of course, understood that the state would contribute to the maintenance and support of these schools.

Now comes the astounding report that the state is not prepared at the present time to carry out its contract. Demoralization has seized the district school boards. Many of them are making no further efforts to secure scholars. The teachers who have been employed are in a quandary. The trustees do not see where the money is coming from to pay the teachers. Unless something is done to improve the outlook, the teachers will prepare to depart for other and more promising fields.

The legislature is inhibited from raising the needed revenue by direct taxation, for the reason that the state tax rate has already reached the constitutional five-mill limit. All of the state's funds for 1908 have been applied. A legislative appropriation made without some provision for raising the money would be futile.

The money must be provided from some quarter or the great work of scientific education in agriculture will come to an end in Georgia. The schools which were started a year ago under such flattering auspices will be forced to suspend. Eight have been in operation the past year. The other three—those in the ninth, tenth and eleventh districts—will be ready for opening in the early fall.

Without money for maintenance, these schools will be in the position of a great factory with no fires under the boilers, with giant machinery stilled in silence, with tall stacks from which no belching smoke ascends and with operatives scattered to the four winds.

To shut down may be the work of a day, but to start the furnaces and reorganize all the vast and complicated forces is a much more tedious process.

So it will be with the agricultural schools. If the corps of teachers disband and the pupils disperse, it will mean a retrogression that will cause incalculable damage to the cause of agricultural education. It will mean that Georgia has been content to take a backward step in this great work.

The problem is one for the profound consideration of the lawmakers. It should not be said of the state that it has failed in its duty and declined to redeem its pledges.

The various counties have carried out their contracts. The state cannot do less than fulfill its implied promise of support to the letter.

Failure to provide a sufficient revenue to keep the schools in operation and thus redeem the pledges made when the schools were organized will place Georgia in a most unenviable position, and one she cannot afford to occupy before the world.

SANITATION AND A MAN-MADE "GRIM REAPER."

We are waking with a shock to the tragic realization that thousands of the untimely deaths we once mourned as the "inscrutable dispensation of Providence" were nothing less than the consequences of human neglect and ignorance and failure to reckon with the elemental laws of sanitation and hygiene.

So we are laying less blame on Omnipotence, and preparing to spend more money on sewerage, drainage, cleanly premises and the enforcement of pure food laws. Which is progress and common sense with a vengeance.

The New York Times, which, being published in the largest city on the continent, whose campaign against the death-rate must take account of every conceivable factor, should speak with authority, expresses itself as follows:

"About this time the death-rate rises" was the old-time entry in the municipal almanac as the hot weather season approached. But we have changed all that by methods of sanitation which are bearing good fruit.

The Times refers to the perfection of sewerage and drainage and water facilities, toward which New York is striving, to the enforcement of sanitary regulations about premises and to the strict observance of food and milk inspection laws.

If these measures have conspired to render the summer in New York less a season wherein people resign themselves to an abnormal death-rate, what should be accomplished in Atlanta, where all the climatic and topographical conditions fight on the side of community health?

The conventional "Grim Reaper" who pays his regular visits to this city is largely a man-made production. Intelligent sanitation will lessen his activities by an impressive numeral.

FLOYD COUNTY'S EXAMPLE TO GEORGIA.

It would be an excellent thing for the progress and development of Georgia if leaders of sentiment in every portion of the state made a study of the manner in which Floyd county has gone about the solution of the good roads problem.

The county authorities have for many years employed convict labor on the thoroughfares converging in Rome, with the result that next to Fulton Floyd county enjoys, perhaps, better transportation facilities for its products than any other county in Georgia.

Latterly, the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Rome has inaugurated a campaign which bids fair to be of state-wide influence. It is proposed to obtain the services this summer of a corps of government experts to construct a mile of model road to serve as a demonstration of what can be done in this direction. The government has, upon previous occasions, sent good roads demonstrators into Georgia, but it is evident that public sentiment is at present in that receptive state likely to receive the most benefit from a new and intelligent exposition of modern road-building.

The Rome association is not confining its efforts to this one movement. A special committee is studying the problem of good roads, with the nation as its field, and it is amassing a volume of statistical proof and the evidence of things already accomplished, such as should arouse the aggressive cooperation of every citizen interested in the general welfare of his community.

The achievement of a uniform system of good roads throughout Georgia is second only in importance to the expansion of our transportation facilities by water and rail. Upon many occasions it has been pointed out that unless we gave the products of farm and factory cheap and easy access to rail and river stations, money spent in providing these latter facilities would fall far short of solving the urgent transportation problem of the day.

This reasoning touches only one phase of good roads. It does not comprehend the influence exerted by the latter as a factor of general development, a role too often proven to require elaboration in argument.

Nothing would please us better than to see every county in Georgia exhibit an alertness toward this problem approximating that shown by the enterprising citizens of Floyd.

Patriotism and Partisanship.

In an editorial extract reproduced elsewhere on this page, The Indianapolis Star, commenting on The Constitution's tolerant attitude toward the presidential nominee of the republican party, asks, "Is the south democratic?"

Our contemporary seems to have fallen upon confusion in terms and definitions.

The south is patriotic, first, and then partisan. The duty of patriotism precludes that bigoted, warped viewpoint that unfits a citizen or a newspaper to survey men and issues from a broad, national angle rather than from the narrow and intolerant conception of sheer partisanship.

The Constitution recognized in Judge Taft a man of non-sectional dimensions, loyal, of course, to party, but making that loyalty subservient to the more important principles of national citizenship.

The holding of this view does not lessen our allegiance to democratic principles.

The days of blind and unrelenting partisanship are gone; we hope, forever! Americans are rapidly arriving at that intelligent and generous attitude which enjoins them from endowing a man with all the political virtues or vices merely because he is a republican or a democrat.

For this acceptable progress we owe much credit to the incumbent of the White House.

And the whole country has much to be thankful for that Judge Taft is in this respect very much the same kind of a man.

And yet withal, the south is democratic and will continue so. But that does not mean that it is intolerant!

Story With a Moral.

A Virginia exchange tells this little story of an advertising scheme which worked the wrong way:

"A tailor and clothier resolved not to waste his money in newspaper advertising upon the occasion of opening a new store. Instead, he hired a brass band to play in front of his establishment all day to draw the crowds. The crowds came, of course. Small boys were very much in evidence. Idlers of the type who hold down benches in the city squares were likewise on hand in force. Some few persons who looked as if they had the price of a suit of clothes were also attracted by the music, but not many of them went in to buy. As a popular entertainment the concert was a great success. As a scheme to sell clothing it was a flat failure. The moral is obvious. A big noise is not necessarily an advertisement."

Marse Henry and the Sheath Skirt.

Editor Watterson talks editorially of the sheath skirt, and says:

"Generally speaking the abbreviations in costume which awaken protests from the pulpit are those grossly exaggerated by the press. Just as the cartoonist makes a 'Merry Widow' hat nine yards wide, instead of nine and a half feet—the exact measurement—the humorist's pen punches a great many extra air holes in the peek-a-boo shirtwaist and reams out the same until the garment appears, in print, shockingly immodest. The mind of the habitual 'kicker,' gradually absorbing caricature rather than truth, becomes possessed of the idea that the peek-a-boo shirtwaist constitutes a national scandal in summer, as great as that created in winter by the ball gown that is cut a few degrees lower by the humorist than it is by the modiste. The world will not be sent helter-skelter to the devil by the change of the cut of a skirt, or the fabric of a shirtwaist!"

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

Governor Hoke Smith left Atlanta on the 12:40 Southern train yesterday for Princeton, N. J., where he goes to attend the funeral of ex-President Grover Cleveland.

The funeral exercises will be conducted tomorrow in private.

Governor Smith held the late ex-president in high regard, and entertained great admiration for his ability. He was secretary of the interior in Mr. Cleveland's second cabinet. Yesterday, upon receiving by wire a request that he attend the funeral exercises, the governor immediately made arrangements for the trip.

He will return on Sunday, and will be in his office at the capitol Monday morning.

Rome Bond Issue Authorized.

The railroad commission of Georgia yesterday authorized the issue of $80,000 of bonds by the Rome Gas Light Company. The proceeds of the bond issue are to extend the mains and develop the property of the company.

Judge Hillyer Appointed.

Judge George Hillyer, of the railroad commission, has been appointed a committee of one to investigate the proposed increase in rates by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and the terminal charges of 7½ cents a bale on cotton for ship side delivery.

He first introduced the resolution calling for an investigation into the proposed increases. Both of these are interstate commerce transactions with which the Georgia commission cannot deal. They will be investigated by Judge Hillyer and all the facts secured and laid before the commission, with a recommendation as to what the commission should do. It is probable that the Georgia commission may later take the matter up with the interstate commerce commission in the interest of Georgia shippers.

ANALYZES MIDGET'S CASE; IT IS HYDROCEPHALUS

Rev. Crawford Jackson Makes Reply to Remark by Recorder Broyles in Court.

Rev. Crawford Jackson, general secretary of the Juvenile Protective Association, has a word or two to say about the 7-year-old negro who was published as a "hardened criminal."

In trying to dispose of the case, Recorder Broyles said something about Rev. Crawford Jackson taking hold of the matter. In reply to this Mr. Jackson analyzes the case and comes to the conclusion that the negro midget-criminal has hydrocephalus. That sounds like it might at once end the controversy, but Mr. Jackson goes a little further into the merits of the case and furnishes The Constitution with the following official statement:

In The Constitution of June 23 I see an indirect question, or a direct statement, from Recorder Broyles made on the bench, concerning a child of 7 years. It is presumable this statement is substantially correct, as it is the second one which Judge Broyles has seen proper to ask me on the bench when I was elsewhere. The last statement is as follows: "I do not know what to do with such a case. I sincerely wish the Rev. Crawford Jackson would take hold of the case. He has said it was wrong and illegal to arrest children, and I would like for him to say what must be done with a case like this."

In the first place I wish to say that a resolution was brought before the Juvenile Protective Association by another than myself, protesting against the arrest of children under 10 years and for trifling and playful acts over 10 years of age. This resolution was unanimously passed on February 18 and became the action of this association.

Later some legal opinions were sought and easily obtained from some of the very best lawyers in the state (outside of our executive committee, in which there are three of the ablest lawyers), beginning with Attorney General Hart, who, because of his ability, knowledge of law and his official position, ought to be preeminent in the interpretation of law. These legal opinions were read at a meeting of the association on March 18 and referred to the legislative committee of the association with power to act. On March 19 they were ordered published by the legislative committee and they can be found in full in The Constitution of March 20.

These legal opinions are on file in our office as a part of the property of the association. They are therefore official and not the personal opinion of only one member of the association.

Now then, as to the boy whose extreme case is stated under the headline, "Seven-Year-Old Midget is a Hardened Criminal."

This boy is charged with stealing horses, buggies and a cow, and offered to sell one team for 5 cents. It is also stated in this story that "his head is three times too large for his emaciated body" and that the boy would answer no question before the court. These statements, with real experts in child training (a hundred of whom could be named) upset all declarations made concerning the real criminality of the child. Moreover, almost any physician or student of head troubles would at once say that the child had hydrocephalus, certainly macrocephalus and perhaps some other serious brain trouble, making the child totally irresponsible for his so-called crimes, while he might be active and even skillful in other matters.

In the second place, if that child has been not only thrashed again and again, but has been tied and chained for weeks at a time, then he has been more sinned against than he has sinned. If his inhuman and senseless mother has declared him bad since he "could crawl," and if others, under whose influence he has come, have taught him that he is a thief and all sorts of a rascal, then he has gone out to live according to his teaching and brutal treatment.

W. S. Witham, than whom there is no better friend to children, came into the office of the association about the time I had dictated this reply and he advises that I add this sentence: That if the juvenile state, for which we are now working and which will come, had now a place for both white and colored children we would help Judge Broyles to solve this difficult problem by putting that boy, Jeff Moore, under proper medical treatment, then under the best moral guides after his head was cured, which must be thirteen times as big as his feet—with the diseased, emaciated and brutalized body between these extremities put in a normal condition if possible.

To one and all who are concerned, is it not both a bit of sadness and humor combined to consider some people, high in society, as real kleptomaniacs, declared such by experts and society and having apparently healthy bodies from head to foot, and the little diseased, poor piccaninny, 7 years old, distorted in every part, called by some people "a hardened criminal"? Mirabile dictu!

But through the deeds of those hands—pure as heaven's sweet dew—

But the gold of your heart, which I know to be true
As heaven—which I'll reach through you, only you.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE

Anent the Beef Trust.

Editor Constitution: The discussion anent "high price of beef" strikes a responsive chord within my system. For the past ten years I have been insisting that it is our farmers to raise better beef, and all a matter of "blood" in man and beast.

Last week a bunch of yearling Herefords sold in Chicago at $8.40 per hundredweight 1,107 pounds after the shrink. If they people want western beef, why they must pay for it.

With the exception of a few men who are doing a noble work in fostering the beef industry in the state of Georgia, we might say it is utterly neglected; however, with only 5 per cent good beef raised in the state, who can afford to put up abattoirs for butchering when they can buy already dressed delivered every morning at their shop at 8 to 10 cents?

It is largely also a matter of percentages. Our Georgia steers, 4 to 6 years old, may weigh say 1,000 pounds, but on account of scraggy and paunchy frame will dress only 42 to 45 per cent, which costs on the block more than 10c per pound, whilst a seven-eighths yearling Hereford, on account of blood and care, has 650 pounds of dressed beef, costing 7½c per pound or a difference in favor of good blood of 40 per cent, if you pay 5c on the hoof for both. The one the farmer has to "look after," 3 to 5 years, whilst the finely bred steer only has been kept over one winter. But, no butcher will pay more than 2c or 2½c per pound for the cheap steer, nor can he afford to, hence with no one to raise good steers, for the farmer just won't, why, you people must pay whatever the price is. Just now price is regulated by hay-fed Montana and Dakota and other western cattle that never had a pound of grain, but sold last week in Chicago for $6.50 to $6.80 per 100 pounds.

But these western men long ago eradicated the Texas scrub and have been using pure bred bulls for the last quarter of a century, whilst our people are still inbreeding from the scrub cattle brought in by the Spaniards some 300 years ago, degenerated still further by an infusion of Jersey blood.

The cattle will fetch the price when the buyer can buy them by the carload—yearlings past that will weigh 1,000 pounds. It will take good blood to make that. But plenty of beef men do it and it makes the price you pay for steaks. Ten years ago, in a public address I said within the next decade we would pay 25 cents or more for good steaks. It came sooner than I expected.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION FROM THE INSIDE

Interesting Observations of a Newspaper Man on the Chicago Convention.

A well-known citizen of Atlanta received yesterday an interesting letter from a former newspaper man, who, having lived in Atlanta some ten years ago, is now high up in metropolitan journalism, and who had charge of the republican Chicago convention reports for his newspaper.

The letter was personal and hence for that reason the name of the writer is not given, but his picturesque and graphic outline of the situation as seen from the inside of the national republican convention will be read with interest.

He writes:

"You know all about the Chicago convention. It was not much of a show. That 47 minutes of applause for Roosevelt that you read about was a fake. The real applause wouldn't have run for three minutes. They had a bunch of hired men stationed all over the hall and they started it up again whenever there was a lull. The only two genuine outbursts of applause were for LaFollette and for old Joe Cannon, who, strangely enough, are just about as far apart as God and the devil. It was a strange convention, and to my mind marks the decline of the old republican party.

"It can never hold another convention and take the back track on progressive issues as it did this time. The old mossbacks, the corporation watchdogs, were in control, making the platform, whatever may be said about Roosevelt bossing everything. Roosevelt bossed nothing but the nomination of Taft. The nomination of Sherman was made over his violent opposition and that of Taft, and he did not get a scrap in the platform.

"The old dodoes who made up the platform haven't had a new idea in the last forty years; they don't realize what is going on in this country in the way of political thought, especially in the west, and they were totally oblivious to the fact that there is such a thing as progressive ideas. They voted down in open convention three planks that the American people would vote for, 90 out of every 100, and these were the planks for publicity of campaign contributions and expenses, popular election of United States senators, and squeezing water out of the railroad stocks. They set themselves squarely against every popular measure, every new idea.

"The platform might have done in the old McKinley-Mark Hanna days, but the country has advanced a whole generation in political thought since then. Even the plainest voter realizes now how the corporations have bought the presidency and ruled conventions, and the planks I have mentioned are needed to be applied.

"By turning these down the republicans have alienated the great mass of progressive voters, the men who do not think in the old grooves of a few years ago. Besides, there are thousands of men out of work, business is flat, 'Jim' Sherman is acknowledged to be a 'back-track' candidate, and while Taft is a strong man, highly thought of, and regarded as specially equipped for the presidency, I expect to see this the hottest contested campaign for the presidency you and I have ever seen. The democrats are in pretty good shape. They have a split in the G. O. P. and a fine candidate for governor in Ohio; the G. O. P. has troubles in a whole lot of the western states, and it looks as if the labor vote for once will be cast practically solidly for one party, the democratic. I would not be surprised if John Mitchell were named for vice president. He is an exceptionally able man and has got the O. K. of all the big bugs on the corporation side of the fence, like Carnegie, Morgan, Belmont et al., not to mention our old friend Theodore. He ought to have labor pretty solidly behind him. I think it is far from a forlorn hope for Bryan. I would not bet on it, but it is a campaign where anything might happen. People who discount Bryan forget that it is eight years since Bryan ran last and there has been a whole generation of political development since then—development which has been along the precise lines which Bryan has always advocated. Eight years ago he was the man with the red flag, the anarchist, the destroyer of business. People were then seeing through McKinley-Mark Hanna eyeglasses. They look at things very differently now. Bryan undoubtedly stands very much higher in popular estimation as a man of character and a man of ideas than in 1900. This may be a big element in the campaign—it is one of the unmeasured possibilities, and the country may wake up the morning after election and find that the country has selected Bryan as the next Roosevelt. Undoubtedly a great many voters who would have voted for Roosevelt had he been named will vote for Bryan.

"This is a real political sermon, and I had no idea of getting so much off my chest when I started. I was thoroughly disgusted with the hypocrites at Chicago, however, and if any bunch of self-righteous pirates ever deserved a good, sound licking that old set of pious whiskerinoes is the bunch."

STILL A CHANCE OF ANNEXATION

Oakland City and Edgewood May Come In.

WHY THEY WERE LEFT OUT

Citizens Residing in Both Towns Still Very Anxious to Become a Part of Greater Atlanta—Few Days Left in Which to Act.

There is still a possible chance for Oakland City and Edgewood to be included in Greater Atlanta by the charter amendment secured from the legislature this year. They can yet be taken in by quick and decisive action.

It seems that citizens of Oakland City and Edgewood who desired annexation are greatly wrought up over the turn that was taken when the council of Atlanta took final action last Tuesday afternoon. By that action it was clearly shown that citizens of Oakland City and Edgewood were a great deal more concerned about being annexed than was the city council about taking them in. There was an impression that Atlanta was so very anxious to get the two incorporated suburbs that most any kind of a deal could be made. This was shown, it is said, by the way Edgewood suddenly increased its demands.

Battle Hill, it was pointed out, was willing to be annexed, and trust to Atlanta to do the right and square thing, and that was why Battle Hill was the only incorporated district included in the new limits.

The Case of Edgewood.

In the case of Edgewood it was believed a satisfactory agreement had been reached. The contract of 1907 was considered by the extension committee of the city council of Atlanta, and citizens from Edgewood appeared and stated plainly that the agreement of 1907 would hold good for 1908. Then, on the very day that the council was to take final action, a communication was received from Edgewood citizens in which it was stated that Edgewood begged leave to amend its demands, and the new demands were for water on nearly every street in Edgewood, all streets paved within three years, police, fire protection, schools, and Edgewood to remain a ward all to itself. The demands were so emphatic and so extreme, that the committee straightway shut Edgewood out from all consideration. After this action, a number of Edgewood citizens began to clamor for annexation louder than before, and some of them said that the new demands had not been authorized by a majority of Edgewood citizens. A new deal is being called for, and it is barely possible that, if Edgewood does like Battle Hill, it can still be included in the Greater Atlanta of 1910, for council can hold another called session and admit both Oakland City and Edgewood so they can be included in the thirty days' advertisement which is necessary before a bill for a charter amendment can be filed.

About Oakland City.

As to Oakland City, it is said that it, too, can come in if the citizens of that town can "get together." On last Monday night the council of Oakland City met and, after a long and heated debate, it was decided to make no recommendation as to annexation, but to let all citizens appear before the council of Atlanta and "fight it out." This also meant that the question might again be "fought out" before the legislative committee. The members of the Atlanta council committee did not relish the idea of having so much "fighting out," because it was likely to endanger the whole plan of annexation. So Oakland City was not included in the report on the new limits. There is a large number of the most prominent citizens of Oakland who still want to be annexed and who are working on the matter, hoping that something might yet be done by which their town may become a part of "Greater Atlanta."

Whatever is to be done will have to be done quickly, for there are only a very few days left in which action can be taken.

If Oakland City and Edgewood fail to be annexed to Atlanta this year there would still be a chance next year, before the census for 1910 is taken, and before the new limits go into effect.

"Is the South Democratic?"

(From The Indianapolis Star.)

In an editorial entitled "How the South Views Judge Taft," The Atlanta Constitution says:

And while The Constitution and the southern states, speaking by and large, maintain a political alignment antagonistic to Judge Taft, we risk few contradictions in stating that the dominant element in this section will view his nomination as the wisest and most acceptable choice that could have been made by his party so far as the interests of the south and the nation are concerned.

The affiliations of The Constitution and the southern states are too well known to require elaboration. But should the democratic party fail of success at the polls next November, we believe observant southerners will regard the accession of Judge Taft to the presidency with confident complacence.

For years the south, in spite of a theoretical reverence for Jeffersonian principles and a theoretical detestation of centralization, has been a hot-bed of Rooseveltism. Nobody need be astonished at The Constitution's intimation that this affectionate regard for Theodore Roosevelt will be transferred to Mr. Roosevelt's successor.

Is the south really democratic? To be sure it votes the democratic ticket, but does it retain much of its former interest in the welfare of the democratic party and the preservation of true democratic principles?

A negative answer might explain the south's attitude toward Mr. Bryan and its languid indifference to all practical proposals looking toward the rehabilitation of the democratic party.

Shot by Strikers.

Little Rock, Ark., June 25.—Word has just reached here from McGhee, Ark., that J. C. Granger, a special agent of the Iron Mountain railroad, guarding strike-breakers working at the railroad repair shops there, was shot by strikers when he went out after supplies for his workmen. Granger was first assaulted with rocks and then shot as he fell. His injuries are serious. The wounded man is now on his way to the company hospital in St. Louis.

WILL GO TO CHATTANOOGA ON INSPECTION OF ROAD, SO LEGISLATURE DECIDES

The general assembly of Georgia, as a body, will go to Chattanooga on the "legislative special," over the Western and Atlantic railroad on July 3, returning July 4, according to the resolution adopted at a joint committee of the house and senate on the Western and Atlantic railroad, held yesterday afternoon in the senate chamber. So far as known, this is the first time the legislature has ever planned so extensive a trip, and it will be watched with peculiar interest.

The object of the proposed trip to Chattanooga is for the purpose of investigating the proposal to dispose of the terminals of the state road in Chattanooga, the acquiring of other terminal rights and for the purpose of inspecting the entire property of the state in so far as this road is concerned.

State Senator Peyton M. Hawes, chairman of the senate committee on the Western and Atlantic railroad, presided at this meeting, which was attended by a majority of the members of the house and senate committees.

It was pointed out that the proposal was one of vital moment; that every legislator should be posted on the question, as well as the committees. It was for this reason a resolution was adopted calling upon each house to act separately and vote in favor of this trip to Chattanooga for this purpose.

It is proposed that the legislature go to Chattanooga Friday, July 3, and return Saturday, July 4.

The house committee continued in session and upon the motion of Mr. Slater, of Bryan, the question of allowing the city of Calhoun, in Gordon county, to build a dirt road across the tracks of the state road was to be referred to a committee to be composed of three members from the house, Attorney General Hart and an attorney for the lessees of the state road.

WOULD MUZZLE ALL DOGS UNDER PENALTY OF DEATH

Every dog has had his day—to go on the public roads and highways without a muzzle, if the bill introduced by Representative Trent, of Heard, becomes a law.

No tax is provided for the dog, no punishment for the owner, but a swift death to the unmuzzled dog is the sole punishment set forth in the measure.

Bird dogs "actually engaged in the hunt" are the only species excepted from this sweeping bill.

It is made the duty that these animals shall be killed by any "justice of the peace, lawful constable, sheriff or other officer of the law." There is no alternative but death.

"Why, we had six persons bitten in Heard county last month by mad dogs," said Mr. Trent, "and any amount of cattle."

"It doesn't help the bite of the dog that bites you or your cattle that his owner is paying tax. This tax doesn't pay for the privilege of biting you and the danger is there just the same.

"If a man wants to have a dog, let him have him muzzled. That doesn't hurt the dog and is a safeguard to all who come in contact with these animals."

The bill in full is as follows:

"Section 1. From and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for the owner of any dog to allow him to run at large upon the public highways unless such dog is muzzled in such a manner that it is impossible for him to bite any person or animal, unless such dog be actually engaged in the hunt and accompanies his master.

"Sec. 2. Any dog found running at large in this state, not actually engaged in the hunt for game and accompanied by his master, or muzzled sufficiently to render it impossible for such dog to bite any person or animal, shall be killed by any justice of the peace, lawful constable, sheriff or other peace or executing officer of the county in which such dog may be found, and it is hereby made the duty of any such officer to kill such dog wherever and whenever he may be so found, such dogs being hereby declared to be estrays, dangerous and vicious."

BILL TO REQUIRE HOTELS TO FURNISH MOSQUITO BARS

"Stung" will no longer be the password of the Georgia T. P. A.'s who frequent the mosquito-ridden sections of the state if the measure of Representative Shaw, of Clay, which compels all hotels and boarding houses charging $1.50 a day and over to equip each bed with a mosquito bar, prevails.

The open season for mosquito bars is to be between the merry month of May and the near-winter month of November. During this period every bed must either have a bar—mosquito bar—or the proprietor is to be punished as for a misdemeanor.

None of your little stingy bars which serve as a mosquito collector, but a nice, large, roomy affair, one that will cover the entire bed and closely enough woven to admit of no mosquito, be he Master Amos Quito, Jr., or what not.

"I am a traveling man," said Mr. Shaw, as he reached in his desk and got out his bottle of Pond's extract and soothingly applied it to the whelps on his wrists caused there by a horde of bloodthirsty mosquitoes who drove him to this measure of relief.

"No one knows the agony of a small hotel room, hot and stuffy, with mosquitoes as big as the chickens, or near-chickens, served on the table.

"The life of a traveling man is hard enough as it is without the comforts of home, and we must have protection from these insects which make life miserable.

"Why, look at the stegomyia fasciata, that dreaded ambassador of yellow fever; the other equally vicious emissaries of malaria, river fever and the like. Unprotected they pounce upon you and make a night a howling wilderness of torture and despair.

"Yes, sir, this is no freak bill, but an urgent necessity, and we are going to make things hum-m-m around here until it is enacted into a law."

SPEAKER SLATON APPOINTS SIX PAGES IN THE HOUSE

W. E. Prescott Has Been Named to the Position of Temporary Doorkeeper.

Embryo statesmen were announced in the house yesterday by Speaker Slaton when the pages of that body were appointed. Out of the 987 applicants for these positions 981 were unable to be accommodated, for there are only six places and these places were filled by the following young gentlemen: Masters Covington, of Colquitt; Huff, of Lumpkin; Williams, of Laurens; Parker, of Talbot; Callaway, of Lee, and Freeman, of Fulton. The last named is the speaker's page, who knows personally every member of the house.

The "page legislature," when they hold mock sessions, before and after the house meets, has come to be one of the annual features of the "near" statesmen contingent.

Doorkeeper Appointed.

Acting upon the recommendation of the house that a temporary doorkeeper be appointed, during the illness of Doorkeeper Houser, of Clark county, the speaker has appointed W. E. Prescott, former member of the house from Echols county. The members wish for Mr. Houser a speedy return to his usual good health and duties as doorkeeper.

Toccoa, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—After much discussion, the city council of Taccoa has passed an ordinance, "that, from and after the date of the ordinance, all dealers in drinks or beverages in which malt, alcohol or whisky is used shall pay annual license of $1,000." Another condition of this ordinance was that all dealers in near beer, that should contain beer, or even taste like beer, should pay a license of $1,000.

Senate Votes Down Measure for Increase in Salaries.

At the session of the senate yesterday morning the two bills relative to increasing the salaries of the judges of the supreme court and court of appeals from $4,000 to $5,000 were both defeated by large majorities.

Three new bills were introduced and several others were read for the third time and placed upon the table.

The senate adjourned at 12 o'clock.

Routine of the Session.

Senators Felder and Camp spoke against the measure, referring to the panic and lack of funds in the treasury of the state, contending that, while the judges may be worthy of the increase, the state is unable to pay an increase.

Senator Wilkes argued in favor of the bill, contending that the judges are poorly paid for the services which they render to the state. The bill was lost by a vote of 27 to 5.

The bill to increase the salaries of the judges of the court of appeals to $5,000 was lost by a vote of 31 to 4.

The bill by Senator Williford to change the time of the school year so that the same shall begin September 1 and close August 31, and to provide a time and manner for making the apportionment of the school funds, was made a special order for Tuesday.

MORE NEW BILLS IN LOWER HOUSE

No Let-Up in Proposed Legislation.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE READ

House Was Not in Humor to Take Up Serious Business and Little Was Accomplished—Adjourned in Honor of John W. Akin.

Half of the time of the house yesterday was taken up in the reading of the governor's message, received by that body on Wednesday, after which the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late President John W. Akin, of the senate.

In the other fifty minutes, however, the house heard twenty new bills read for the first time, adopted a resolution congratulating Representative David C. Barrow, of Chatham, upon his marriage; condoled with J. R. Atwater, of Upson, upon his recent illness; offered the hall of the house, at night, to the woman's suffrage convention to meet in July, to the State Juvenile Association for June 30, and received an invitation to the University of Georgia 800-08 rally at Broughton's Tabernacle.

There was a lethargy pervading the house throughout the morning, and no effort to transact any business was attempted.

It was upon the motion of Mr. Candler, of DeKalb, that the governor's message was taken up and read.

In that it had been printed, the members were familiar with its contents, and but slight heed was given Reading Clerk D. F. McClatchey as he read page after page of the message.

Another Rush of New Matter.

When the gates were thrown open for the introduction of new business there was another rush to get bills upon the clerk's desk, in order that they might, earlier, get upon the already crowded house calendar.

One of the more important bills introduced was that by Messrs. Blackburn and Bell, of Fulton, to more clearly define the name of the Georgia School of Technology, a branch of the University of Georgia, and allow the trustees to grant honorary degrees. There are a number of graduates who have made names for themselves and their alma mater whom the trustees would like to honor. They also asked for an appropriation of $30,000 with which to build an additional dormitory at the Tech for the accommodation of the ever increasing attendance and to establish a chair of architecture at the school, for which an additional $5,000 is asked.

Mr. McMahan, of Clark, asked $20,000 for the erection of an academic building for the State Normal school, and $7,000 for use by the trustees of that school.

For Annual Payment of Pensions.

Two more bills to have the pensions of veterans paid annually, instead of quarterly, were introduced. The first by Mr. Shaw, of Clay, who also asks that the pensions paid to indigent veterans be increased to $100 instead of $60 as is now the case. The other bill was by Messrs. Orr and Couch, of Coweta.

Mr. McIntyre, of Thomas, offered a bill to provide for an income and inheritance tax and joined with Mr. Shaw, of Clay, to limit the appeal cases to the supreme and court of appeals, so that the superior court would be the court of last resort for sums of less than $300.

It is expected that during Friday Mr. Hall, of Bibb, will have his anti-pass bill brought up before the house, and in the event he does the action of the railroad commission of Georgia in passing the anti-pass order when such legislation was pending in the house will be gone into by those members who consider the commission has undertaken to usurp the prerogatives of the general assembly.

Routine in the House.

Rev. M. H. Eakes of Madison, the new chaplain of the house, offered the morning prayer immediately following the opening of the second day's session.

Following the call of the roll, the house journal of Wednesday was read and adopted.

New Bills in House.

Upon unamious consent the following new bills were introduced:

Mr. Burkhalter of Tattnall—To regulate the sale, inspection and analysis of commercial fertilizers.

To regulate the business of commission merchants.

Mr. McMahan of Clark—To appropriate $7,000 to trustees of the University of Georgia for normal school.

To appropriate to trustees of the University of Georgia $20,000 for erecting academic building.

To provide for creation board of health in Athens.

Mr. Barksdale of Wilkes—To regulate writing of life insurance in state.

Mr. Fulbright of Burke—To amend charter of Midville.

To incorporate Vidette in Burke.

Messrs. Flannigan and Holder of Jackson—To amend charter of Center.

To amend charter of Hoschton.

Messrs. Blackburn and Bell of Fulton—To appropriate $30,000 for erection of dormitory at Georgia School of Technology.

To appropriate $5,000 for establishment of school of architecture at Georgia School of Technology.

Mr. Terrell of Grady—To amend section 888, code 1895, to make wife competent witness in cases of seduction.

Mr. Shaw of Clay—To require hotels and boarding houses charging $1.50 a day or more to furnish mosquito bars from May 1 to November 1.

To fix annual amount of pensions for indigent veterans and widows so as to be paid annually and $100 instead of $60.

Messrs. Crawford and Price of Bartow—To make it unlawful to enter premises of owner and remain over objection of owner.

Mr. Gibson of Glascock—To amend act creating board of county commissioners for Glascock county.

To change time for holding superior court in Glascock superior court.

Mr. McIntyre of Thomas and Shaw of Clay—To limit appeals to supreme court and court of appeals to civil suits involving sums of more than $300.

To provide for income and inheritance taxes.

Messrs. Blackburn and Bell of Fulton—To confer upon board of trustees of Georgia School of Technology right to confer honorary degrees.

Messrs. Orr and Couch of Coweta—To pay pensions annually.

Mr. Trent of Heard—To protect life and property from vicious and rabid dogs, requiring muzzles, excepting bird dogs.

Messrs. Orr and Couch of Coweta—To amend law creating Haralson school district.

Mr. Williams of Dodge—To amend law governing lines.

Mr. Persons of Monroe—To amend act creating board of county commissioners for Monroe county.

Mr. Fowler of Bibb—To authorize any corporation chartered by superior court by a majority vote of its stockholders to change its corporate residence from the county in which the charter is granted to any other county in this state.

Governor's Message Read.

The message of the governor, received Wednesday, was next read by Reading Clerk D. F. McClatchey, which required fifty minutes.

At its conclusion the house adopted a touching resolution, adopted by the senate Wednesday, upon the death of former President John W. Akin, of the senate.

A resolution by Mr. Pope, of Brooks, tendering the hall of the house to the Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association for its annual meetings on the nights of July 9 and 10 was adopted.

A similar resolution was passed offering the house to the Juvenile Protective Association for a meeting on the night of June 30. At this time the house and senate is to meet in joint session to hear addresses in favor of establishing juvenile courts in Georgia.

Upon the motion of Mr. Bell, of Fulton, the house adjourned at 11:40 o'clock to meet Friday at 10 o'clock.

This was in pursuance of the senate resolution previously adopted calling for the adjournment out of respect to the memory of the late president of the senate, John W. Akin, of Bartow.

This resolution called for a committee of five from the house and three from the senate to draft suitable resolutions upon the death of President Akin. This committee from the house, as named by the speaker, is as follows: Representatives Price, of Bartow; Candler, of DeKalb; Hall, of Bibb; Covington, of Colquitt, and Martin, of Elbert.

INSURANCE BILL IN THE HOUSE

Important Measure Introduced by Mr. Barksdale of Wilkes.

There was introduced in the house yesterday a measure by Mr. Barksdale, of Wilkes, "regulating the writing of life insurance," which promises to correct a number of existing evils and which will be of general interest to all insurance agents and insurants throughout the state.

It aims first to see to it that no representations in regard to the company or policies issued are at variance with the true facts in the case; that no special favors are granted in favor of one not granted to all, and for other changes.

The measure in full is as follows:

"Section 1. On and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any life insurance company, nor any officer, director or agent of any life insurance company doing business in this state to issue or circulate or cause to be issued or circulated, any estimate, illustration, circular or statement of any sort misrepresenting the terms of any policy issued by it or the benefits or advantages promised thereby, or the dividends or shares of surplus to be received thereon, or to use any name or title of any policy or class of policies misrepresenting the true nature thereof.

"Sec. 2. It shall not be lawful for any life insurance company, or for the officers, directors or agent of any life insurance company doing business in this state to make, or permit to be made, any distinction in favor of individuals between insurants (the insured) of the same class and equal expectation of life in the amount of the payment of premiums or rates charged for policies of life or endowment insurance, or in the dividends or other benefits payable thereon, or in any other of the terms and conditions of the contracts made.

"Nor shall any company or officer or agent thereof make any contract of insurance or agreement as to such contract other than as shall be plainly expressed in the policy issued thereon, nor shall any company, through any officer, agent, solicitor or representative thereof, pay, allow or give, or offer to pay, allow or give, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to insurance, any rebate of premium payable on the policy, or any special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefits to accrue thereon, or any paid employment or contract for services of any kind or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever not specified in the policy contract of insurance, nor give, sell or purchase as an inducement to insurance or in connection therewith any stocks, bonds or other securities of any insurance company or other corporation, association or partnership, or any dividends or profits to secure thereon, or anything of value whatever, not specified in the policy.

"Sec. 3. After the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any life insurance company doing business in this state to issue nor permit its officers or agents to issue or cause to be issued, either directly or indirectly, agency company stock or other securities, or any special or advisory board or other contract of any kind promising returns and profits as an inducement to insurance.

"Sec. 4. Every officer, agent or representative of any company doing business in this state who shall violate any section or part of section of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as for a misdemeanor. It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner of this state to revoke the certificate of authority of any company to do business in this state upon being satisfied that any such company has violated any of the intentions of this act. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall impair or affect contracts already issued in this state."

Section 5 is the repealing clause.

BOARD HAS SLIGHT "HITCH" AT FIRST PUBLIC SESSION

There was a slight "hitch" yesterday afternoon when the board of education undertook to carry out the new order of things and hold an "open session."

There was an open session, but it came at the tail of the meeting, and thereby those who wanted to see for the first time in many years how the board of education "did things" on the inside were disappointed and misled.

But a little later along in the session doors were thrown open, and the board transacted business "out in the open," so to speak.

Just why the board of education adopted the plan of holding its executive session first and its open meeting afterwards was not explained. There was nothing said about how or when the board would hold its open sessions when an agreement was reached with the city council, and therefore the board could elect to either head or tail the public part of its meeting.

All the other city boards start off with a public session and later on, if anything develops which, it is deemed, demands an executive session, the room is cleared and the business demanding secrecy is transacted behind closed doors.

If the board of education continues its policy of meeting in executive session first and then "opening up" late in the meeting, the result may be that those who attend will get wearied out and retire before the doors are thrown open.

This program, however, may be changed. The open session business is novel to the board of education, and it may take it some time to get used to the order of things, and after a while it may not reverse the order that usually appertains in all boards which hold both open and executive sessions.

That Executive Session.

The most important matter which came before the executive session of the board was the discussion of the normal school. The course of study presented to it was adopted, and is as follows: Pedagogy one year, English one year, mathematics one year, history and geography half year each and a course in drawing, music and penmanship.

The condition for membership in the normal school, as passed by the board, requires a diploma from the Girls' High school in the literary course of not more than three years; also any applicant from any high school that has a four years' course, and who stands the entrance examination satisfactorily will be received.

The board passed favorably upon an applicant who has successfully passed the examination in the normal school given by the superintendent, being exempt from any further examination for teacher's place. Also a graduate from the normal school shall be eligible to a teacher's place in the grammar school without serving as supernumerary.

The resignation of Miss Annie B. Sawtell from the Crew street school was tendered to the board and accepted. Miss Mildred Converse, Miss Mamie Herron and Miss Rosebud Hooper were elected supernumeraries, and Miss Mildred Converse and Miss Laura Burckel were assigned teachers' places.

The teachers' examination, which has been spoken of before as occurring on July 20 and 21, has been postponed till the first week in September, the exact date not being fixed.

In the open session the board decided to turn over to the Associated Charities, on petition of its secretary, J. C. Logan, the appropriation of $500 which council had assigned to the board for expenditure on playgrounds for the summer.

Reports were read from C. S. Culver and C. A. Dean, the committee visiting the schools of Cincinnati, Louisville and Indianapolis, while they were in session, in the interest of the proposed technological department of the Boys' High school, for which the board voted thanks and appreciation.

The finance committee reported that the contract for the repairs on the furnaces had been awarded to Moncrief Furnace Company, the lowest bidder, for $975.10. It also recommended to the board the purchase of 250 new desks to complete the seating comforts of the W. F. Slaton and North avenue schools.

SOCIETY

MRS. CHARLES HARRIS WHITFIELD,
Formerly Miss Marie Whitaker, of Milledgeville, Whose Marriage Took Place June 11.

Kentucky Woman to Lecture.

Miss Laura Clay, president of the Kentucky Equal Suffrage Association, and auditor of the National Suffrage Association, will speak at the meeting of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association, to be held in Atlanta July 9 and 10.

The following press notices show how well Miss Clay stand with the public, both on the platform and in social life:

"Miss Laura Clay is a speaker of much brilliancy and force. Whether on the platform or in social life, Miss Clay radiates a charming personality that is an argument in itself for the cause she so valiantly champions."—Capital Journal, Salem, Oreg.

"Miss Clay, who has delivered several lectures this week on the subject of 'Equal Suffrage,' did not indulge in sentiment or ranting denunciation, but brought an array of hard-headed facts and figures which must have been very convincing to her listeners. She is ready with an answer for every objection that possibly might be presented by the 'anti,' in most cases backing up her statements from the facts gathered from the states that are blessed with equal suffrage."

A Happy Occasion.

A congenial party yesterday enjoying an automobile ride, and tea afterwards, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Terrell and Mr. and Mrs. Clement E. Dunbar, the latter having reached Atlanta Monday.

Mr. Dunbar and his bride have taken apartments in the Lennox, for the summer. They were married in Philadelphia Saturday, June 20. Mrs. Dunbar was Miss Helen Elizabeth Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey Knapp, and was one of the most popular young women in Philadelphia's most exclusive social world. She is bright, pretty and charming, and is meeting with a most cordial welcome from Mr. Dunbar's many Georgia friends.

To Miss Gilbert.

A happy affair of last night was the bridge party given by Miss Louise Baird in compliment to her charming guest, Miss Dora Belle Gilbert, of Albany.

There were twenty guests, and the card tables were placed at cool intervals about the reception rooms, which were fragrant with roses and sweet peas. A bowl of punch, out on the porch, was attractive between games, and a delicious course supper was served.

The prizes were a book and a silver scent bottle, and Miss Gilbert was presented a fan.

The lovely young hostess wore a cream lace gown, and Miss Gilbert wore pink, embroidered net. Mrs. J. B. Baird wore a becoming white gown of mull and lace.

To Mrs. Morgan.

A beautiful affair of Wednesday afternoon was Mrs. R. B. Ridley's euchre party in compliment to Mrs. William Morgan, of LaGrange, who is visiting Mrs. R. B. Ridley, Jr.

"Clairmont" was inviting with summer flowers, and the game was played in the cool living room and on the wide porch. Miss Nellie Hood Ridley served punch, and Mrs. R. B. Ridley, Jr., and Mrs. B. M. Boykin assisted in entertaining.

Mrs. H. R. Jewett won the first prize, a hand-painted plate; Miss Louise Colzey the second, a silver pin tray; Miss Katherine Milledge the lone-hand prize, a silver embroidery set, and Mrs. Morgan was presented a fan. Delicious refreshments were served.

At East Lake.

One of the most enjoyable of June parties was the spend-the-day bridge on Wednesday given by Mrs. Mary Howard Meador and Mrs. R. T. Jones, at Mrs. Meador's East Lake home.

The game was played on the porch and lawn, with bright surroundings of summer flowers, and an elegant country dinner was served at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Sciple and Mrs. Thomas B. Paine won the prizes, which were parasols.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE CARNIVAL AT THE RINK

The prettiest sight in Atlanta during last summer was the red, white and blue carnival on the Fourth of July at the skating rink at Ponce de Leon. There were a hundred or more young men and women in costumes that combined these three colors, and the effect was like a waving flag in the breezes. The carnival will be repeated at the rink this year, and will take place on Friday, July 3.

NOTIFICATION COMMITTEE IS NOT YET APPOINTED

Officially Speaking, Hon. Joseph M. Brown Does Not Know He Has Been Nominated.

Funny, isn't it?

Joseph M. Brown doesn't know he has been nominated for governor yet. That is, he is not supposed to know.

Officially he won't know anything about it until some thirty-five Georgians with set pieces of oratorical fireworks and a superabundance of flowery rhetoric show themselves at the Brown farm at Marietta and turn loose their parts of speech on the circumambient.

The Georgians who will perform this important and necessary task have not yet been selected. State Chairman Hewlett A. Hall has the naming of them.

After the notification committee has conveyed the news of Mr. Brown's nomination by the independent democracy of Georgia, Mr. Brown will deliver a speech—speaking by the card—expressing his surprise and delight over the cheerful news. Then he will get serious and tell what he expects to do for the commonwealth.

NO WAGE CUT BY SOUTHERN

Business Is Reviving and the Reduction Won't Be Necessary.

Washington, June 25.—It is understood here that the Southern Railway Company will not reduce the wages of its employees in the operating department, as had been contemplated. Last March the company announced its intention of reducing wages at that time, and numerous conferences were held between the officials and representatives of the employees, the result of which was to defer action until July 1. Commissioner of Labor Neill and Chairman Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission, acted as intermediaries at these conferences.

It was agreed at that time that if business conditions along the line of the railroad had not improved at the end of three months, a new wage scale would be taken up for consideration. Several conferences between the same parties have been held within the past few days, and as a result the probationary period has been extended for three months. It is said that business in the south is reviving, and that at the end of the three months the Southern will not find it necessary to make any wage reductions.

FULLY NOURISHED

Grape-Nuts a Perfectly Balanced Food.

No chemist's analysis of Grape-Nuts can begin to show the real value of the food—the practical value as shown by personal experience.

It is a food that is perfectly balanced, supplies the needed elements of brain and nerves in all stages of life from the infant, through the strenuous times of active middle life, and is a comfort and support in old age.

"For two years I have used Grape-Nuts with milk and a little cream, for breakfast. I am comfortably hungry for my dinner at noon.

"I use little meat, plenty of vegetables and fruit, in season, for the noon meal, and if tired at tea time, take Grape-Nuts alone and feel perfectly nourished.

"Nerve and brain power, and memory are much improved since using Grape-Nuts. I am over sixty and weigh 155 lbs. My son and husband seeing how I had improved, are now using Grape-Nuts.

"My son, who is a traveling man, eats nothing for breakfast but Grape-Nuts and a glass of milk. An aunt, over 70, seems fully nourished on Grape-Nuts and cream." "There's a Reason."

HIS AUTHORITY IS QUESTIONED

Humane Officer Haskell Complained of for Exceeding His Authority.

G. H. Morrow, of the Morrow Transfer Company, was arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday morning on his own request for the purpose of having the recorder pass upon the powers and jurisdiction of E. V. D. Haskell, the special agent of the Humane Society.

Mr. Haskell found a mule attached to a wagon belonging to the Morrow Transfer Company, and the mule had a sore neck and the wagon was overloaded, according to the opinion of the special officer.

Mr. Haskell stopped the dray and refused to allow the driver to continue his trip. Mr. Morrow appeared on the scene and ordered the dryer to proceed to a vacant lot and there get another mule. He told Mr. Haskell he was exceeding his authority and asked him to enter a case so Recorder Broyles could pass upon it.

Mr. Morrow admitted that the mule had a sore neck, but contended that Mr. Haskell had no right to take charge of the team and order the drayman not to proceed with the load.

Mr. Haskell said he was appointed by the Humane Society to look after ill-used stock and that he did have a right to make a driver stop and take out the horse or mule that was being mistreated.

Recorder Broyles told Mr. Haskell that the better plan was, when a well-known and reputable citizen owned the team, to let the driver continue and then have the animal sent back to the stables.

"You can always do this," stated the recorder to Mr. Haskell, "and then enter your case."

Mr. Morrow said there was a great deal of complaint about the arbitrary manner in which Mr. Haskell was acting.

Mr. Haskell bowed to the decision of the court.

A fine of $5.75 was entered against Mr. Morrow for allowing a mule with a sore neck to be driven on the streets.

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN JUNE 28.

It Will Be Visible in Many Parts of the United States.

Chicago, June 25.—Astronomers are interested in an eclipse of the sun on June 28. The eclipse, which will last from 8:40 till nearly noon, in Chicago, will be visible in many portions of the United States. It will be annular, the center of the sun being obscured and a ring of light left around the circumference. Interest of astronomers centers in an unusual cluster of planets near the sun.

It is stated that Mercury, Venus, Mars, Neptune and Jupiter will be visible, nestled closely together in the west, shortly after sunset. This phenomenon, it is declared, will not occur again possibly in hundreds of years.

Among the observations to be made will be that of the star Arcturus, which has been coming directly toward the earth for ages at the rate of more than 300,000 miles a second.

DIED AT AGE OF 99 YEARS.

700 DELEGATES EXPECTED.

Pleasant Meeting of Georgia R. F. D. Carriers on July 3 and 4.

Albany, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Arrangements are being made for the entertainment here on July 3 and 4 of about 700 delegates and other visitors to the annual convention of the Georgia Rural Letter Carriers' Association. The program announced several days ago is an unusually attractive one, and the topics announced for discussion are those in which members of the association are deeply interested. The time of the delegates will be pretty well occupied during the two days, though opportunity will be made by the large local committee on entertainment to show the city's guests many pleasant attentions.

The moving spirit here in planning for the meeting is B. J. Mann, president of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association in the second congressional district, and he is receiving the active cooperation of the entertainment committee of the Albany Business League.

POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

Talk of Next Congressman in the Seventh District.

Rome, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—Even before the smoke of the late political campaign has cleared, talk has begun about the race for congress two years from now. Judge Moses Wright, of the superior court here, will probably be in the race for Congressman Lee's place. The friends of Judge Wright are urging him to make the race and he is considering the advisability of doing so.

The chances are that there will be four or five candidates in the race for congress from the seventh district. Hon. A. W. Fite, of Cartersville, is being spoken of, as is also Hon. W. C. Bunn, of Cedartown.

DR. ARMSTRONG WILL BE CHOSEN

He Will Succeed Dr. McRae as Surgeon of Grady Hospital.

When the trustees of the Grady hospital meet next Tuesday afternoon they will elect a surgeon for the hospital to take the place of Dr. Floyd W. McRae, who resigned last Tuesday.

Dr. William B. Armstrong will succeed Dr. McRae. Some time ago when Dr. McRae decided to resign because his large private practice did not allow the time to be devoted to the hospital work, a majority of the trustees expressed a desire that Dr. Armstrong take the place, and since then there has been such pressure brought to bear upon Dr. Armstrong that he has decided, it is said, to accept the appointment.

Dr. Armstrong is one of the best known surgeons connected with the medical profession in the city, and he will give the city most valuable service on the hospital medical board. He is a member of the city board of health from the second ward, and has devoted much time and thought to the city's health department. His father was once president of the board.

Dr. McRae gave the Grady hospital many years of faithful work, and the trustees will adopt a resolution expressing an appreciation of his excellent work in behalf of the city.

Dr. Armstrong will receive practically the unanimous vote of the trustees, and the board is to be congratulated on receiving the assistance of so able and efficient a practitioner of medicine and surgery.

Cretonne

Hats

And Accessories

Cretonne is a craze in New York and London.

Cretonne hats, cretonne belts, cretonne bags, cretonne parasols.

Regular flower-figured, big-patterned cretonne of lively coloring or soft-toned hues is being used for summer costume accessories --and with charming effect in most cases.

We have had specific and exclusive word from our designers now in Europe as to the details of this new fashion--and we are, with characteristic enthusiasm for the newest and prettiest things--displaying some very smart models in cretonne.

Hats of the mushroom-sailor and Corday order are stunningly developed in the pretty flowered stuff. See them.

Belts and Bags to match in sets at a dollar-fifty are brand-new and will be very stylish. We have them.

We also have a beatiful lot of the Cretonne itself.

RIVER RATES TO ALBANY.

Effort Is Made to Secure Lower Freight Rates.

Albany, Ga., June 25.—(Special.)—A party of Albany business men and manufacturers will start Monday morning on a trip down Flint river, the effects of which are expected to be far-reaching in the affairs of Albany and this section. It will mark another step in the campaign inaugurated some time ago looking to securing a reduction in Albany's freight rates through an effective river service between Albany and Ohio and Mississippi points.

The river steamer Mary has been chartered and the trip will be for the purpose of making a practical demonstration of the fact that as a result of recent work which the government has been doing between Albany and Newton, a channel now navigable at all stages of the river is open, making possible a reliable freight service, such as is contemplated.

There is now pending a contract between the Albany Business League and a water transportation company, as the result of which three boats will be placed on the Flint, making connections on a regular schedule with boats plying the gulf and the Mississippi. These boats will be guaranteed a certain monthly tonnage of freight to and from Albany, and the water freight rate so established will have to be met by the railroads.

COTTON DROPPED 10 TO 17 POINTS

Close Was Four to Six Points Up From Lowest.

Market Opened Steady at Advance, but Became Weak Shortly After Midday, and During Afternoon Sold Below Tuesday's Figures.

New York, June 25.—After a fairly steady early session the cotton market became weak and unsettled today, with the close steady, but at a net decline of 10@17 points. Sales were estimated at 150,000 bales. The market opened steady at an advance of 5 points to a decline of 1 point, generally a shade higher on active months, and during the hour sold up to a net gain of 2@5 points on better cables than expected, buying of near months by spot interests and covering by Wall street shorts. Weather advices were generally favorable. However, crop reports were bearish, there were further reports of short time in Germany, and cables turned easier toward the close of the English market. During the afternoon it looked as though there still was some scattering long interest in July, which was trying to liquidate before notices expected tomorrow. The market turned weak shortly after midday, and at one time during the afternoon showed a net loss of 18@22 points, with the new crop months selling below the low figures of last Tuesday, a fact which in itself rather tended to encourage bearish sentiment. The close was 4 to 6 points up from the lowest on covering. Expectations of a bearish government condition report next Wednesday were among the bearish factors. During the afternoon it looked as though there still was scattering long interest in July which was trying to liquidate before notice expected tomorrow.

Receipts at the ports today 6,127 bales, against 7,788 last week, and 3,533 last year. For the week 50,000 bales, against 48,723 last week, and 27,984 last year.

Spot closed steady, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.70; middling gulf 11.95; sales 1,500 bales. Futures opened and closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 25.—Cotton spots easy; sales 925 bales. Low ordinary 7c, nominal; ordinary 7 13-16c; good ordinary 9¼c; low middling 10½c; middling 11⅛c; good middling 11 15-16c; middling fair 12 7-16c; fair 13 1-16c, nominal; Receipts 689. Stock 80,345. Ore-eighth down.

Futures opened quiet and steady, with the July option 4 points up and the other active months unchanged to 3 points below the close yesterday. Following this irregular opening the weight of the offerings induced by the fine crop weather caused the market to ease off still further. What with the continuance of good weather over the cotton belt and the unbroken series of good accounts of the growing crop received here, the market continues inactive, with a decided downward trend, despite the efforts of the bulls to shove prices up to higher levels. The local spot market was also easier, with lower prices on all grades, and this served as another bearish factor. At the close, which was quiet, the active months were 9 to 16 points below the close yesterday.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 25.—Sales of about 10,000 bales of drills, sheetings, jeans and cotton flannels have been made to China this week. Today a sweeping sale was made of aberfoyle fancy cottons at 9 cents a yard, the goods having sold this season all the way from 17½ cents to 25 cents. Trade in the jobbing houses for the day was good, and the clearances will be continued for the balance of the week. Men's wear lines are being prepared for opening after the holiday. The general tone of the market is but fairly steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 25.—The market was unsettled during the forenoon, with a small business, and in consequence quick response to orders has been the course of prices, with a downward tendency on the continued reports of good weather. Interest in July has flagged, and a quick drop on stop orders was due to the lack of support. The future of prices for the immediate is problematical. Meanwhile crop reports are excellent, and the trade becomes bearish naturally under their influence. Recovery in general business being slow the trade does not anticipate much improvement in the staple at present, though the demand is sufficient to keep prices at about the present level.

SMALL BUSINESS IN THE STOCKS

Operators Struck With Longing for Vacation.

Professional Traders Are Timid About Making Commitments. American Locomotive Dividend Gave a Shock to the Bears Who Had Sold Short.

New York, June 25.—The shifting fluctuations in prices today marked the lack of speculative conviction on the part of the small operators who made up the market. Part of the idleness and indifference of the trading is attributable to the seasonable disinclination to effort, and the desire for vacation leisure. Demand for securities is almost stagnant. The professional traders, who would be disposed to operate on the bear side of the market under these circumstances are timid about making commitments owing to the small floating supply of stocks and the occasional demonstration of the extent to which unfavorable factors have been discounted in the price level. The action of American Locomotive today served as an object lesson to bear traders, who do not observe sufficient caution in selling stocks short. The declaration of the usual quarterly dividend on that stock proved an agreeable surprise to some holders and a correspondingly unpleasant shock to the bears, who have assumed with great confidence that the dividend was to be reduced, or even passed. The basis for this assumption was the known heavy decline in traffic of the railroads, their forced resort to economics and their selection for first observance of these economics of the usual expenditures for new equipment. Not only have the railroad equipment companies suffered from curtailment of outlay for new expenditures, but the financial disturbances last fall threw into arrears large amounts of payments for equipment already delivered. The success of new bond flotations by many of the railroads recently has served to relieve, somewhat, the latter phase of the troubles of the equipment companies. It was the consideration of these facts that had driven American Locomotive down to a price out of line with a 5 per cent dividend stock. The price was run up over 5 points today, when the regular dividend was declared. The strength of American Car was partly in sympathy, notwithstanding the different policy already pursued by that company in a reduction of the dividend rate. The financial strength of the company revealed by the annual report also helped the car company. The sustaining influence of these and a few other advances were offset, at one time during the day, by the renewed unsettlement in the Rock Island and subsidiary securities and in some of the Gould group. There was nothing new to explain the weakness of the Rock Island securities, but it gave color to repeated rumors of a reorganization of the companies' finances in prospect. Reports of crop news varied during the day, allegations of extensive damage to winter wheat having some influence in the stock market at one time. These reports were denied, and the weakness of the wheat market in response to the denials gave them force. J. P. Morgan was reported, on the eve of his return to Europe, as declaring himself optimistic over the financial outlook, and this utterance was of effect in the late firmness of the market, which was held until the closing. The day's gains are small as a rule, but last prices generally were the best.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,438,000. U. S. twos and threes declined 1-4 per cent on call.

IDEAL WEATHER FOR THE WHEAT

This Caused the Market to Become Weak.

July Delivery Closed at Net Loss of Five-Eighths to Three-Quarters — Corn Also Weak and Lower. Oats Off.

Chicago, June 25.—Clear weather generally over the entire wheat belt of the United States caused weakness today in the wheat market, the July delivery closing at a net loss of 5-8@3-4c. Corn was down 1-2c. Oats were off 1-4c. Provisions were 7 1-2@10c lower.

The wheat market was weak all day, with the exception of moderate firmness at the start, due to an advance at Liverpool. The feature of the trade was heavy selling of July by several prominent commission houses and by a leading long. The ideal weather conditions in the winter and spring wheat territories were chiefly responsible for the selling pressure, but an extremely slack demand for cash wheat by millers and exporters also inspired considerable selling. Fresh reports of black rust in Nebraska were received, which caused some buying at the start. The Kansas crop report estimated the condition of the new crop in that state to be 73, which is a loss of 5 points compared with the government report of June 10. The market closed weak. July opened 1-8c to 3-8c lower at 85 5-8c to 85 7-8c, sold up to 86 1-8@86 1-4

MUCH is said of simplicity, pro and con. The application of the quality to life too often becomes a brutal reversion to the primitive animal instinct or degenerates into a peregrination of the Weary Willie variety. On the other hand, complexity is often merely the plea of the weak or the pretense of the vicious. These perversions, though, do not fix the value of the principle, ethically or economically. The moral worth of a life is in inverse ratio to its exercise of idiosyncrasy, and the labor-saving machine doing the work with the fewest twists and turns is the inventor's goal. Hence, simple things and ways are the best. The simplest way to get "The Best" Printing or Lithography is to give us your order.

GEORGIA BANKS WILL ORGANIZE

Atlanta Institutions Ask Other Banks to Join With Them.

In order to be prepared for an emergency should another financial crisis develop, the banks of Atlanta have taken steps to form a national currency association, as provided in the recent law passed by congress.

The principle underlying this law is the same as that heretofore followed in issuing clearing house certificates.

The new notes which will be issued, should occasion demand, upon acceptable bonds, commercial paper or other good assets of the bank when deposited with the National Currency Association, will be the same in all respects as the present bank notes. The security behind them will be different, that is all.

At a meeting of representatives of all the local national banks, held in Atlanta on last Tuesday, steps were taken to organize an association among the Atlanta banks and others in the northern part of the state. A committee on organization, consisting of Joseph A. McCord, of the Third National, as chairman; Joseph T. Orme, of the Lowry National, and John K. Ottley, of the Fourth National, was appointed at this meeting.

These gentlemen were to communicate with other national bankers in this territory, advise them of the plans on foot and urge their attendance at a final meeting to discuss definite plans for organization. A notice to this effect has been mailed to all the bankers in north Georgia in the territory north of a line drawn from Columbus to Augusta, and including Macon. The national banks of these three cities and of the Georgia territory north of this line have been invited to send representatives to a conference to be held at the Piedmont Driving Club in Atlanta on Tuesday, July 7, at 10 a. m. It is urged that either the president or vice president of each bank attend this meeting.

Ten Banks Must Enter.

Atlanta has an aggregate bank capital and surplus among her five national banks to meet the requirement of the national act on this point. It is required in the law, however, that no less than ten banks may form an association. Therefore at least five more banks must join hands with the Atlanta national banks. If there are fifteen or twenty in all, it will make no difference. Theer cannot be less than ten.

Under the present capitalization and surplus of the national banks in the state of Georgia which can qualify, there can be two associations formed. A movement is on foot to organize another association, either in Savannah or Macon, and the secretary of the treasury has the right to designate to which association the national banks in the state may be assigned, giving due regard to the territory of such associations.

No Apprehension Is Felt.

In the letter from the committee on organization it is made plain that no apprehension whatever is felt at the present time of another financial disturbance, and advantage is taken of this period of quiet to prepare for the next storm. The letter states:

"Then at any future date if it should be desirable to have an issue of currency as provided by the recent act of congress, this additional issue could be obtained without delay upon the deposit of acceptable bonds (at 90 per cent of their market value), or of two-name commercial paper, or other good assets of the bank, at 75 per cent of their market value, up to a total limit of 30 per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank so applying. This issue to be authorized by the secretary of the treasury. The bills will be identical in wording, color and shape to the bond secured notes of your bank."

MARIST ALUMNI PLAN TO FORM ASSOCIATION

There is a movement on foot among the students and alumni of the Marist college for the formation of an association that will lend its aid to spreading the name and increasing the attendance of their alma mater.

The "old" boys treasure pleasant memories of the days spent at Marist, and show their appreciation by always having a kind word for the institution that with generous interest gave them every advantage during their student days, and that now watches their advancement in the larger world of business with pride.

Marist has just completed a very successful year, and with such aid as this organization will give, the prospect for the future is most encouraging.

A meeting will be called in the near future, at which old friendships will be renewed and a permanent organization formed.
